Coast-to-coast Record

After establishing a new coast-to-coast record of 11 hours and 45 minutes, a TWA stratosliner lands at LaGuardia Field, New York. The plane, on a new schedule, took off from Los Angeles, flew at 17,000 feet altitude, made one stop at Kansas City. (Acme telephoto).

The War Today

By GUY RHOADES

LAY OFF
Hungarian diplomats arrived home today from Munich with a disappointing story for their countrymen—they must lay off harassed Rumania and forego claims to Transylvania because Germany and Italy say so.

Germany and Italy, finding Britain increasingly aggressive, are worried about the Balkan situation, partly because a war there would deprive them of such supplies they still hope to get in a bad crop year and partly because they do not feel confident about Russia's attitude.

UNINTERESTED?

Stories have been current the last two days that Russia was about to pounce on Turkey and seek to gain control of the Dardanelles, but today the Russians denied any such intention. In fact, they said, they had no intention of pressing any claims on Turkey and felt no anxiety over control of the narrow strait which the Allies were unable to force in the first Great War.

Russia, its spokesman said, has free passage through the Dardanelles now and has no reason to think the situation will change as Moscow is on friendly terms with Istanbul.

PRESS ON

Turkey continued to press its defence preparations without indicating whether an assault still was expected from the Soviets or if some sort of hostile action by the Rome-Berlin partners was considered likely.

Turkey's neighbors besides Russia are French-ruled Syria, British-mandated Iraq and the Kingdom of Iran. The position of Syria under the new Nazified French administration is not clear yet and Iran is said to be strongly non-Nazi in sympathy. The Syrians might elect to help Britain in return for their own postwar independence.

ITALIANS STAY HOME

Meanwhile there was a lull in Mediterranean activity as the Italian fleet apparently decided for the moment to stay within range of shore defences rather than venture into "mare nostrum" and face the guns of the British fleet.

The Italians issued an extravagant claim that their air force had damaged the British battleship Hood and an aircraft carrier, but the Admiralty announced that although bombs had dropped near its vessels the day before yesterday no one had been hit and no one had been hurt.

LOSSES

The Italians lost four planes shot down and seven damaged. They put considerable color into their announcement covering the encounter and said 300 aircraft attacked the British units. If that figure is correct, it indicates an astonishing lack of skill or courage or both, on the part of Italian pilots.

The German air force, seeking to blast shipping out of the Straits of Dover, met heavy losses when British fighter planes knocked down 14 of its aircraft and seriously damaged 23 others, many of which were believed not to have reached home.

REFUGEE CHILDREN ARRIVE HERE

News came this afternoon that almost 100 children, ranging in age from 5 to 18 years, had arrived in Vancouver today, brought from Britain by their parents to escape the dangers of Nazi bombs. Some will stay in Vancouver, while 30 are bound for homes in Shanghai and 22 others are en route to Australia.

Lady Butler, wife of Lieut. Com. Sir Thomas Butler, had charge of a group of 12. She left immediately for Victoria, with eight of the children, three of them her own. She will reside in Victoria for the duration of the war. She said she might "distribute" some of the children among her friends.

More than 20 uniformed boys also arrived here today bound for the Fairbridge Farm School on Vancouver Island.

Roosevelt Prediction

WASHINGTON (AP)—Harold Ickes, Secretary of the Interior, an ardent advocate of a third term, said this afternoon, following a cabinet meeting at the White House today, that he had not the slightest doubt President Roosevelt would accept Democratic renomination.

"If I were a betting man I would bet on it," he added.

Hail Damages Auto

CALGARY (CP)—Alberta's hail storms are "colossal." Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Follett, tourists from Seattle, told people here this afternoon as they pointed to 40 jagged holes in the fabric top of their car.

Hailstones that did the damage were between one and two inches in diameter, said Mr. Follett. The couple had stopped their car on the highway while driving here from Banff.

More Ducks for Hunters

REGINA (CP)—The duck crop for 1940 on the prairies will be substantially larger than has been the case for many years, according to reports received by Ducks Unlimited.

June rains increased the water surface available for the spring broods and rendered salvaging operations unnecessary in many areas.

Reports also show that more ducks are nesting this year in British Columbia.

Jumps to Death

EDMONTON (CP)—The body of a woman who leaped 90 feet from the level bridge to her death in the North Saskatchewan River was identified this afternoon as that of Mrs. Preston Darnell, 45, a housewife who, police believe, had become despondent over domestic troubles.

New York indicated that sailings for the United Kingdom were being maintained on a prewar level, about eight a week with several lines operating.

Opinion differed on the likelihood of a German invasion attempt against Britain. Some believed the attempt would be preceded by an assault in the Near East or against the Union of South Africa. Some held it would be launched in a hurry in case the Balkan situation should boil over and make it impossible altogether.

British defences remained on the alert, ready for it, in any case.

Will Ration Gas

MELBOURNE (AP)—Sir Frederick Stewart, Minister of Supply, today announced details of a gasoline rationing system which probably will be in effect in Australia September 1.

The maximum mileage allowed private automobiles will be 39 miles a week. Cars used wholly or partially for business will be allowed extra mileage. Commercial vehicles will be allowed 2,500 to 15,000 miles annually, according to capacity and the nature of their usage. Those carrying goods to remote areas will receive the maximum allowance.

Canadian Casualties

OTTAWA (CP)—The ninth casualty list for the Canadian Active Service Force overseas issued today listed two soldiers as dead, four seriously wounded, 14 wounded, 11 wounded and now on duty and two seriously ill.

The list brought the total of dead to 31. There have been eight reported missing.

Staff Sergeant Roderick M. G. Mackenzie of Parksville, B.C., was among the wounded.

Naval Bill Completed

WASHINGTON (AP)—A $4,000,000,000 naval expansion bill was sent to the White House this afternoon by Congress.

It was a major portion of the defence campaign and legislators on Capitol Hill were manifesting a desire to approve President Roosevelt's request for $4,848,171,957 in cash and authorizations to start this expansion and to increase greatly the army's land and air forces.

Aliens to Australia

MELBOURNE (AP)—Like Canada, Australia has agreed to receive from Great Britain interned aliens who might present a difficult problem to British authorities during any possible invasion by the Nazis, it was learned Friday morning.

'Witness' Fined

SARNIA, Ont. (CP)—Carl Steinhoff, described by police as an ordained minister of Jehovah's Witnesses, an illegal organization, was fined $20 and costs today on a charge under the Defence of Canada Regulations. The court ruled possession of literature pertaining to the organization found in his possession was violation of the regulations.

Communist Arrested

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP)—Nick Hucaluk, 57, alleged organizer of the Communist Party in this district, was arrested today and held on a charge under the Defence of Canada Regulations. Police said Hucaluk has been closely connected with the "inner workings" of the Communist Party in Canada for many years.

Nazis Arrest Belgians

BERLIN (AP)—The Berlin radio broadcast a Brussels dispatch this evening reporting the arrest of a former judge of the supreme Belgian military court and six high Belgian police officials "in connection with an investigation into the abduction of 1,000 persons from Belgian territory after May 10." That was the day the German invasion of the Low Countries began.

Big Air Battles Over England

British Bag 16 Nazi Planes, Damage Many, Repel Others

LONDON (CP)—German warplanes attacked Britain anew tonight. At least 16 raiders were shot down during the day, said an official statement.

In a communique issued earlier this evening, the Air Ministry told of the first 12 enemy planes shot down and said many more had been damaged by British warplanes in heavy attacks throughout the day along the coasts of England.

"Attempts by strong forces of enemy bombers escorted by fighters to attack shipping and other objectives around our coast met with vigorous resistance," the ministry added.

The German bombers had struck at England from coast to coast, and were declared also to have "turned machine guns on civilians in the streets of some towns."

A few deaths were reported. A large formation of enemy aircraft attacked a British convoy. R.A.F. fighters immediately went up to the attack.

While this engagement was under way, a formation of German Messerschmitts and dive bombers attacked a southwest port. However, four British fighters raced up to tackle the second wave. While they were "vastly outnumbered," they still succeeded in downing seven enemy planes without losing any themselves.

Nazis Driven Off

And Convoy Proceeds

The attack on the convoy developed into one of the extremely rare cases where British losses were heavier than those of the enemy. The R.A.F. lost three aircraft while two Nazi machines were shot down. (This was in addition to another fighter plane the British lost).

However, the British planes engaged the enemy so heavily the raiders were driven off and the convoy proceeded on its way.

Enemy's Tactics Turned Into Failure

Twenty bombers and fighters were in the squadron engaged in the big battle of Royal Air Force fighters. The Germans divebombed out of the sun from a tremendous height and were met by heavy anti-aircraft fire that kept them above accurate bombing altitude.

British fighters rose quickly and chased the raiders all over the sky.

One of the German planes crashed on land with its bomb-rack apparently full, for there was a mighty roar as the machine exploded.

In a southeastern town a German raider killed two persons, but British fighter planes chased the plane out to sea and it was believed to have been shot down. The Ministry of Home Security issued a communique saying:

"During the night bombs were dropped in a number of scattered points in the eastern and south-eastern counties and in the Midlands. No casualties were reported except a small number in two east coast towns of which a few were fatal."

"Slight damage of no military importance was caused."

Civilians, Firemen Machine-gunned

Enemy planes were reported over the southwest district also and in the southeastern town where two deaths were reported a Nazi plane machine-gunned civilians and a fire-engine crew in a street and bombed and machine-gunned cattle in a marsh.

Bombs damaged business establishments in the town. An Air Ministry communique announced that Royal Air Force fighters shot down a German bomber over the Channel this morning.

150 Enemy Planes Downed in 3 Weeks

Officials said that German losses during three weeks of air raiding against the British Isles totaled at least 75 planes, plus about the same number damaged and possibly forced down before reaching home. The total of German raiders shot down since the war started was placed at 147, and this week's figure at 38.

Another Nazi plane dropped two bombs on a northeastern town, badly damaging many houses and causing several casualties.

A statement of the Ministry of Home Security said:

"Enemy aircraft this morning dropped bombs on the east coast. A railway siding was hit and several persons were killed."

"Some damage was also done in a small town in the Midlands, where casualties were caused to children by flying glass and a few persons were killed."

Shoot for Votes

To a Mexican, voting is a plenty serious proposition. To prove it, an army officer in Mexico City, wounded when Avila Camacho men fired from the balcony of the F.R.O.C. building, gets mad and returns the compliment with bullets. Mexico's presidential election saw bloody rioting and scores killed. (Acme telephoto).

Nazi Storm Trooper Loose in London

LONDON (CP)—The revelation that a German stormtrooper had been employed on the translation staff of the British Broadcasting Corporation prior to his dismissal recently was given front page prominence in most London papers today.

The stormtrooper is said to be still at liberty in London. The case was revealed in the Commons when Philip Noel Baker, Labor, claimed Nazi agents had organized a plot throughout England to spread defeatist talk. He gave no details, merely claiming one of the 20 German translators employed by the BBC had been found to be a stormtrooper and had been dismissed but not interned.

Will Visit Japan

VANCOUVER (CP)—Winners of an essay contest sponsored by the Japan Times and Mail of Tokyo, Anthony D. M. Doyle of Vancouver and Morris Schumacher of Calgary, will leave Vancouver July 24 for an all-expenses paid tour of Japan.

Theme of their essays was "Why Canada and Japan should cultivate friendship." Doyle attends the University of British Columbia here and Schumacher the University of Alberta at Edmonton.

REFUGEES WATCHED

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—The government ordered 100 members of the Argentine national gendarmerie to the Bolivian border today to bar illegal entry of German Jewish refugees who found a haven in Bolivia when they were barred from other South American countries. The Jews were reported preparing to "infiltrate" into Argentina.

49th Parallel Movie

WINNIPEG (CP)—Production of the British film "The 49th Parallel" will be started almost immediately, John Seabourne, in charge of the film's western unit, announced here this afternoon. According to present plans, the picture will be the biggest ever made in Canada.

Starring Raymond Massey, Canadian-born stage and screen actor, Leslie Howard and Elizabeth Bergner, action of the film will be laid in almost every important centre in Canada. The picture is being produced under an agreement with the British Ministry of Information and will stress friendship between Canada and the United States.

TRIO MISSING

SUDBURY (CP)—Patrols organized by Burwash Industrial farm officials were searching today in the vicinity of the French and Wahnapitae Rivers for two sisters and their brother missing since Sunday. Missing are: Betty 19, Margaret 11 and Lloyd Owen 23.

New Defence Powers

LONDON (CP)—The Home Office was given new defence powers today by an order-in-council to prohibit strikes and lockouts and to prohibit or regulate the use of vehicles. It also may order the clearing of buildings to prevent the spread of fire.

Tourists Banned

OTTAWA (CP)—Government officials have placed a ban on tourists entering the Parliament Buildings as a precautionary measure. It was stated this afternoon that now tourists supplied with credentials were escorted through the buildings.

Interlocking Defences Suggested

U.S. Urged to Get Bases In Nova Scotia, Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP)—Three members of the United States House of Representatives military committee, after surveying northeast coast defences, recommended today United States acquisition and fortification of fleet and air bases in Nova Scotia and Bermuda.

The report was made by Representatives Joseph Smith, Democrat, Connecticut; Charles Faddis, Democrat, Pennsylvania, and Joseph Byrns, Democrat, Tennessee.

Smith said he proposed either purchase or lease of bases in the two areas "right away."

MODERNIZATION NEEDED

Although the survey was confined to the northeast coast from

New York to Maine, the three congressmen reported they had "no doubt but the same general conditions prevail in other areas." They recommended modernization and increasing strength of defences all along the Atlantic, Gulf and west coasts.

Smith estimated the undertaking for the continental United States might cost $250,000,000, and for New England alone $60,000,000, not including improvements and an increase in airfields in New England.

"Even if bases were strongly fortified and securely held in Nova Scotia and Bermuda," the report says, "the harbors of the northeast must be denied to any enemy seeking to land mechanized forces on destructive raids or full-scale invasions."

MUST PROTECT CENTRES

The congressmen agreed that coast defences of the Atlantic northeast were "deplorably weak," and added:

"This area is most vital to our national security, containing great manufacturing centres especially valuable to the munitions industry as well as the harbors and installations vital to the maintenance and operation of our fleet."

The congressmen described New England as an area the loss of which to an enemy would be an "irreparable blow in time of war" and as "the strategic point for an entering wedge to separate this nation and Canada."

Britain Halts Child Evacuee Plan

'De Luxe' Refugees

Some of latest group of 71 British children from England, wave enthusiastic greetings to the New York skyline as their boat steams up the Hudson. No hapless refugees in the usual grim sense of the word are these youngsters, almost all being children of well-to-do families and accompanied by parents or governesses.

LONDON (CP)—The government was reported tonight to have postponed the scheme for moving British children to the Dominions.

The Press Association's lobby correspondent said the decision would be announced in the House of Commons next week and added that should the scheme come into operation "it will be much modified."

Major Fred J. Ney of the National Council of Education, who arrived in Toronto from England today to place select groups of English children in private schools, said he was not surprised that the British government may abandon or curtail plans for general evacuation of English children to Canada.

At the same time, Major J. Roland Robinson, British M.P., who flew by clipper to arrange for ships to bring children, said in New York influx of children to U.S. would continue and he hoped ships could be obtained to increase the movement of children from England to 5,000 to 6,000 a week.

"At the offices of the U.S. Committee for Care of European Children, 215 Fourth Avenue, New York, where he has set up headquarters, Major Robinson said: "The difficulty is to get enough ships. The children will be ready to come almost immediately the 'go ahead' signal is given." He estimated the U.S. committee would absorb its Canadian quotas for August and September—a total of 13,000.

Immigration officials at Ottawa said there would be keen disappointment throughout Canada if the plan to bring children to this country were abandoned.

"All our machinery here is ready for the mass movement of children," he said.

Proposals were being made for the use of U.S. ships to carry on the evacuation from England. Committees such as those headed by Helen Hayes, the actress, are approaching Washington with the suggestion.

Major Ney, who will come to the coast after visiting Montreal and Ottawa, said that even in peacetime, there wouldn't be enough shipping to carry 6,000-8,000 children left in England.

"The Old Country feeling is that any small movement would only weaken the country—break the consolidation, if you know what I mean," Major Ney said.

"Besides lack of shipping, there are three main barriers to the mass migration of English children to Canada."

Retired Mounties May Be Called Up

OTTAWA (CP) — Justice Minister Lapointe indicated in today's House votes and proceedings that retired members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police may be recalled to the force "by reason of the existence of a national emergency."

The minister gave notice of a resolution, preliminary to a bill, to amend the R.C.M.P. Act to cover the status of such pensioners who may be called up for service with the force.

The amendment also would provide statutory authority for rates of compensation to members of the force injured by accident and for payment of expenses under the act out of any unappropriated moneys in the consolidated revenue fund.

BRITAIN WILL EAT DESPITE GERMANY

LONDON (CP) — Britain will continue to eat, despite German efforts to blockade her with submarines and bombers, R. S. Hudson, minister of agriculture, told the Commons today.

"We shall have maintained our milk supply and our cattle and sheep populations," he said, "and we have both a reserve of meat on the hoof and a large additional store of cereals in stocks and barns for whatever emergency arises this winter."

Mr. Hudson said the nation was facing a crisis immeasurably more serious than in 1914. Agriculture, he added, must increase food production in the next year to prevent millions from going hungry.

Russian Demands On Turkey Denied

ISTANBUL (AP) — Official Russian quarters here today said Russia has no intention of making any demands on Turkey.

These Russian circles denounced as "pure nonsense" a widespread fear in Turkey that Moscow is about to ask concessions in the Dardanelles Straits or the Caucasus region of Turkey.

This fear apparently had substantiation yesterday when the government called an emergency meeting of the National Assembly for tomorrow.

"Such a belief," said a Soviet spokesman, "is based on the erroneous impression that the U.S.S.R. has reverted to Czarist policy. Nothing could be farther from the truth."

"The U.S.S.R. was obliged to take certain measures for her security in Finland and Bessarabia (the province ceded to Russia by Rumania). But there are no reasons for the U.S.S.R. to attempt to get control of the Dardanelles or of the Kars region (in northwestern Turkey), as our relations with Turkey are good and the straits are open to us."

"The Kars region," he continued, "was ceded to Turkey voluntarily after the revolution, and we do not want it back again."

MORE TROOPS CALLED

However, the Turkish government went ahead with defence preparations.

Several classes of cavalry and many reservists of other classes were called to active service. All men excused from military service for reasons of health were ordered to report for re-examination by July 15.

The government is expected to introduce gasoline restrictions tomorrow.

Officials issued a new denial of German charges that Turkey last spring plotted offensive action against the Russian Caucasus oil fields with Britain and France.

NAZIS CHARGED DISPATCHES

Publication of papers described as seized French diplomatic documents which purported to show this had been planned was regarded here as a Nazi attempt to cause trouble between Russia and Turkey.

The official Anatolian agency issued a letter from Rene Massigli, French ambassador to Turkey, charging the German news agency with altering the dispatches in question.

"DNB (German news agency) has me saying that the Turkish government envisaged the possibility of an 'offensive' against Russia, but was not yet disposed to discuss preparations for such an offensive with the Allies," Massigli said.

"I wrote just the contrary — that the Turkish government envisaged the eventuality of a 'defensive' war against Russia."

British Deny Big Warships Hit

LONDON (CP) — An Admiralty statement made public today said:

"An Italian communiqué issued this morning states that H.M.S. Ark Royal (22,000-ton aircraft carrier) sustained a direct hit from a bomb and that H.M.S. Hood (42,000-ton battleship, world's largest warship) was set on fire. A report has been received from the flag officer commanding the British forces concerned that although several bombs fell close to his ships, no direct hits were secured, and that there was no damage or casualties."

"It was this force which, as stated in the official Admiralty communiqué of July 10, destroyed four enemy aircraft and damaged seven others, three of which are unlikely to have reached their base."

ROME (AP) — An Italian high command communiqué today said:

"From further information it has been ascertained indisputably that in action July 9 in the Baleare zone (south of the island), our aviation units seriously damaged and set afire the great battleship Hood."

"The aircraft carrier Ark Royal also received a direct hit on its deck from two large calibre bombs as shown by a photograph. During the naval encounter in

Pétain Ministry Goes to Versailles

BERNE, Switzerland (AP) — Premier Henri Pétain in a broadcast heard here tonight announced plans to transfer his French government from Vichy to Versailles in German-occupied territory.

At the same time he announced the new French state—already substantially a dictatorship—would be decentralized and based on the old provincial system of pre-republican France.

The 84-year-old marshal, whose radio speech disclosing these plans was interrupted frequently by his coughing, gave the French nation an idea of how he intends to use the power which parliament has given to him to change France's form of government.

As he outlined it, it appeared the framework would be a totalitarian, though decentralized, unit. France will have a new government with 12 ministers, with its seat at Versailles, and some of its ministries in Paris—both now occupied by Nazi troops.

Each of the 30-odd French provinces—units of the old imperial France—will have a governor and complete staff. Ninety departmental prefects will be stripped of much of their power under that system.

"The international capitalistic system is outmoded," Pétain said. "The base of our new state must be work, the family and the fatherland."

"The government already has passed through difficult hours. It has suffered a new trial—this time from England, which has ungratefully attacked the French fleet demobilized in its harbors after unjustly accusing us of being willing to let it pass into the hands of Italy and Germany. France is forced to make new sacrifices."

"I need your confidence," Pétain said. "After Pétain had spoken, the French radio announced he would replace President Albert Lebrun, effective tomorrow, as the head of the French state and chief of the government's executive department."

Pétain will have full legislative power until a new chamber is formed. In case of serious internal or external crisis, he can legislate without asking the Chamber's advice.

Sir Donald Tovey Dies

LONDON (CP) — Sir Donald Francis Tovey, 64, professor of Music at Edinburgh University since 1914, died today.

The Ionian Sea another English battleship received a direct hit from two large calibre bombs.

"Further investigation is under way to determine the damage suffered by the enemy both in these bombings and in those previously carried out south of Crete."

"The naval base at Malta again was bombed violently yesterday morning and in the late afternoon. Fires and explosions were observed in the arsenal and on ships in the port. Three enemy fighting planes were shot down by our bombers."

"Two of our planes did not return to their bases."

(The R.A.F. announced that damage in these raids was slight.)

Premier King's Invitation Rejected

Hanson Declines To Sit With Cabinet

OTTAWA (CP) — Conservative Leader Hanson told the Commons this afternoon he would not accept the invitation extended by Prime Minister King July 8 that he become an associate member of the war committee of the cabinet.

Hon. Grote Stirling, Conservative, Yale, B.C., a former defence minister to whom the same invitation was extended, followed his leader in refusing it.

An alternative proposal by the Prime Minister that there be weekly conferences between the opposition chief and the war committee of the cabinet was not flatly rejected, but Mr. Hanson expressed an opinion that it should not be accepted.

"I was elected to oppose this government. My fellow members of the National Conservative Party honored me by electing me their leader in this House. To do what? To follow out the mandate which we as a party had received from those who elected us to oppose this government."

Hanson Suggests National Ministry

The Prime Minister's offer was made July 8, at the time he announced cabinet reorganization and took three men into the government, all Liberals. "On that occasion he was criticized by Mr. Hanson, who renewed his advocacy of a 'truly national' government."

If the Conservatives would accept the offer to become associate members of the committee, Mr. King said he would make the same offer to leaders of the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation and New Democracy groups.

Mr. Hanson said the Prime Minister, in a private conversation with him June 28 had briefly discussed the proposal he made July 8, but on that occasion had suggested the two Conservatives sit with the war committee in an "advisory and consultative" capacity.

When the proposal was made in the House those words were not used, and in their place the words "associate member" were used.

"In my view sitting in an advisory and consultative capacity is quite distinguishable from the idea of being an associate member of the war committee; the latter goes much farther," Mr. Hanson said.

"Now what is this proposal? It is that myself and my colleague—leaders, if you will, of the Conservative Party in this House—are being asked to join the war committee of the cabinet as associate members."

Would Lack Power to Act

"We are to assist the government in the formulation of war policy and assume all the important responsibilities which attach to such a position, and we are to be absolutely without power to carry out the policies agreed upon or arrived at, whether suggested by us or not, and if we suggest policies and they are not agreed upon and another course is adopted, we shall be expected to support such policies which do not meet with our approval, or otherwise we must resign."

"What is the sense of this new proposal? The very essence of it is responsibility without power, and because that is so, the acceptance of the proposal is impossible. I want to make it quite clear that at no time have I ever sought to become either a member of the administration or to be charged with the responsibility of formulating its policies."

"I was elected to oppose this government. My fellow members of the National Conservative Party honored me by electing me their leader in this House. To do what? To follow out the mandate which we as a party had received from those who elected us to oppose this government."

Robert Service Safe

LONDON (CP) — Robert W. Service, 66, famous poet, has arrived in London with a contingent of refugees from France, it was learned today. With his wife and daughter, he managed to catch a boat at St. Malo shortly before German bombs demolished most ports. He fled just before the German invasion.

Service became famous when he wrote poems on the Yukon, where he lived at Dawson during the gold rush. At one time he worked with the Canadian Bank of Commerce at Victoria, B.C.

Two Held on Plot Charge

Bombs in Philadelphia Start Hunt by U.S. Police

NEW YORK (AP) — Two powerful dynamite bombs were found near the convention hall during the Republican National Convention in Philadelphia two weeks ago, it was learned from a high police authority today.

Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine had disclosed a number of bombs were found during the meeting.

Valentine did not say how many bombs were discovered nor where they were found, but other sources said seven or eight were located, some of them in a hall frequently used for Communist meetings.

"Lieut. James Pyke (head of the New York bomb and forgery squad) went to Philadelphia while the Republican convention was in session," Valentine said.

MORE ATTEMPTS EXPECTED

Valentine made the disclosure in a talk to his detective force in which he asserted the bomb explosion at the World's Fair here July 4 which killed two detectives "is just the beginning."

The voice of the veteran peace officer choked with emotion as he spoke of the two victims of the bomb and declared the department was out to "get" the perpetrators of the plot, convicted them and "have them sentenced to their proper punishment—electrocution."

FOUND IN RUBBISH

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A crude time bomb was found here June 24, the opening day of the Republican National Convention, in a pile of rubbish on the second floor of a central city building.

220 ITALIANS LOST WITH SHIP

ROME (AP) — Two hundred and twenty Italian and Albanian officers and men lost their lives when the Italian motorship Paganini burned and sank June 28 off Durazzo, Albania, it was officially announced today.

The ship was en route from Bari, Italy, to Durazzo with 920 soldiers and 30 seamen aboard. Escorting ships went to the rescue but failed to save the vessel.

The communiqué said the ship left Bari June 27. The fire broke out at 8 o'clock the next morning, when the vessel was seven miles from Durazzo. It sank about noon.

The Paganini was a 2,427-ton freight and passenger vessel, owned by the Tirrenian Line and, until she was drafted for war service, plied between western Mediterranean and northern European ports.

Heads Ground Defences

LONDON (CP) — Air Commodore A. P. M. Sanders was appointed director of ground defences today. His task will be to supervise and co-ordinate the defence of airports against attack either by planes or by parachute troops.

Hitler Tells Hungary to Delay Drive for Land

BUDAPEST (AP) — Premier Paul Teleki and Foreign Minister Istvan Csaky returned today from Munich to explain to an expectant public that Hungary must drop her campaign for immediate return of Transylvania from Rumania.

Responsible sources confirmed reports from Berlin and Rome that this was one of the things Adolf Hitler made clear in his talks with these two leaders yesterday.

Some diplomatic quarters foresaw the possibility the Teleki government might be forced out and replaced by a completely pro-Nazi regime.

The premier informed the nation in a statement of his confidence in the axis powers' efforts to lay a foundation for a lasting peace in Europe.

"This friendship brings duties for our nation," he said. "These duties are that we should not speak much, but trust, work and obey. With this I come home."

The press suggested Hungary had been promised an important role in the final settlement of European problems. No mention was made in the statement or newspapers of Hungary's claims on Transylvania, war-lust province which the public had been led to believe was the chief subject to be discussed by the Hungarian leaders with Hitler and Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop of Germany and Count Ciano of Italy.

Authoritative sources said Hitler had told Teleki and Csaky that nothing could be done about territorial claims because Germany wanted no interruption in production of supplies in the southeast.

ROME (AP) — Italian Foreign Minister Ciano's Leghorn newspaper Il Tevere indicated today, as Ciano returned from important conferences in Germany, that Germany and Italy had prevailed on Hungary to stay out of Rumania in order to avert a war in the Balkans.

Editor Giovanni Ansaldo, writing from Munich, said Axis objections to a Hungarian move were twofold:

First, a Balkan upset would disturb the output of a vast farming region, thereby depriving Germany and Italy of goods.

Second, "a Balkan conflict might give non-Balkan powers an opportunity to extend their influence or, even worse, their territorial possessions in the Peninsula, which must not come about."

Russia is considered in Rome to be the only "non-Balkan power" likely to try to expand in that zone.

Hungary's representatives were swung to holding off on their claims on Rumania's district of Transylvania at yesterday's meeting at Munich.

Ansaldo said Hitler and Ciano had assured Hungary's premier and Foreign Minister Count Istvan Csaky that "the present Balkan status quo will not be disturbed by anyone."

The Hungarian diplomats were told to "stay still—we know your rights and when it is convenient we will provide for them in the general framework of the new European adjustment."

INVITED TO BERLIN

BUCHAREST (AP) — Foreign Minister Mihail Manollescu was reported in diplomatic quarters today to have received an invitation to fly to Berlin to discuss Rumania's foreign policy — particularly in the light of Hun-ticularly in the light of Hungarian demands for the Rumanian province of Transylvania.

It was also reported that Manollescu would ask German consideration for a plan whereby Russia would be asked to return newly ceded northern Bukovina to be set aside as a semi-autonomous Rumanian state for 100,000 Germans now living in Bessarabia.

Bessarabia was ceded to Russia following a Soviet ultimatum.

The foreign minister, government quarters said, would argue that Russia had no just claim in the first place on Bukovina, and that the entire German minority problem in that section of Europe could be solved by its return.

The government took a firmer stand against further territorial concessions to her neighbors following the German-Italian-Hungarian parley in Munich.

British-Soviet Talks Hopeful

LONDON (CP) — R. A. Butler, Foreign Affairs Under-Secretary, told the House of Commons tonight success in Britain's attempts to make friends with Soviet Russia "appeared more likely" in recent months.

In a written reply to a question, he said: "The policy of the British government has been and remains to improve and strengthen the relations between this country and the U.S.S.R."

"Success in this policy has appeared more likely since March, when the U.S.S.R. made a friendly approach to the government and proposed resumption of trade negotiations."

CRIPPS TALKS

"It is to be hoped that discussions on which Sir Stafford Cripps (British ambassador to Moscow) is at present engaged may remove the danger of the Soviet government either economically or militarily against Great Britain in the interests of Germany."

Mr. Butler was replying to Neil Maclean, Labor, who asked if a denial could be given to German white book allegations that Britain was planning to direct attacks against the Baku oilfields.

The under-secretary said general staffs had to consider all future hypotheses, including how to counter possible Russian assistance to Germany. It was their duty to "examine whether, in certain eventualities, it would be possible to interfere with the output of oil from the Caucasian wells." He added that no attempt was made to enlist the co-operation or acquiescence of Turkey or Iran in these hypothetical plans.

FORESTERS FEAR NEW HOT SPELL

A weather prediction "continued hot and dry" left British Columbia forestry branch officials still seriously concerned today with the forest fire situation and the closure order affecting the major portion of the Vancouver forest district remained in effect.

Officials said while no large new fires have been reported, yesterday's rains were not sufficient to remove the immediate danger, especially in view of the weatherman's prediction of a renewed warm spell.

FRENCH SAIL HOME FROM ALEXANDRIA

ALEXANDRIA (AP) — The steamship Providence, carrying "several hundred" French sailors, sailed today for Syria en route to France. The sailors represented the first contingent to be repatriated under the British-French fleet agreement.

The sailors sang as the Providence, with huge French tricolors painted on its sides, glided past British warships at the entrance to the harbor.

The sailors were part of the personnel of the French fleet which had been serving here with the British fleet when France signed armistices with Germany and Italy.

Britain demanded and received this week an agreement whereby the ships are to be interned here for the duration of the war, their armament dismantled and their crews sent home.

No Medicine Hat Convention

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. (CP) — The western Canada district Kiwanis convention, scheduled to be held at Medicine Hat August 18 to 20, has been canceled. Dr. J. K. Bigelow, district governor, announced a three-day conference devoted to business will be held in Moose Jaw, Sask. The trustees will meet August 18 and general sessions will be held August 19 and 20.

De Valera, Neutral, Rejects Irish Joint Defence Plan

Light motorized units of the Irish Free State's army speed to the scene of a practice parachute alarm. British think Irish defences inadequate against the Germans, who may seek to use Ireland as a stepping stone to England.

Members of Eire's one and only anti-aircraft unit on active service to meet any invasion. The Free State's full wartime strength is only 37,000 men, which military experts think is not enough.

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Lord Craigavon, Premier of Northern Ireland, told the House of Commons today that Premier Eamon de Valera of Eire had definitely rejected his proposals for joint defence of the two parts of Ireland and that this ended the matter as far as he (Craigavon) was concerned.

Lord Craigavon declared that any suggestion that Northern Ireland should become neutral in the present conflict was "repugnant to every soul in loyal Ulster."

He added that northern Ireland—a part of the United Kingdom—was at war and would stand by Britain and the Empire to the end.

BRITAIN MAKES LAWS

LONDON (CP) — Britain's concern over the situation of Ireland has increased greatly. The government, it is reported, practically has abandoned hope now of an agreement between Eire and Northern Ireland for a plan for common defence of the island.

Britain fears Ireland may be invaded and a blockade of British troops in Eire as a precautionary move against invasion by Germany. Many Irishmen apparently would consider this invasion by Britain.

It is only 22 miles across the North Channel from Donaghadee, near Belfast, to Portpatrick, Scotland; 61 miles across the Irish Sea from Dublin to Holyhead, and 54 miles across St. George's Channel from Rosslare, to Goodwick, Wales.

Premier Eamon de Valera of Eire is determined to maintain his country's strict neutrality and has appealed for a united Ireland to defend this neutrality.

READY FOR SOS

LONDON accepts the situation as meaning Premier de Valera will not allow the landing of British troops in Eire as a precautionary move against invasion by Germany. Many Irishmen apparently would consider this invasion by Britain.

"The cabinet has no intention of invading Eire," observed the political correspondent of the London News Chronicle today. "All it can do, therefore, is to make preparations to meet with speed the first SOS which comes from Dublin."

U.S. Army Tries New Diesel Tanks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States army is experimenting with oil-burning diesel engines in an effort to double the distance its tanks can strike without refueling.

This was disclosed by Brig.-Gen. Adna R. Chaffee, commander of the new armored corps.

Success of the experiments, Gen. Chaffee indicated, would mean armored vehicles could operate more than ever as self-contained units, like old battle cavalry, striking deep into an enemy's communications and thus paralyzing him.

The veteran cavalry officer discussed also the possibility that it might be necessary in some circumstances to refuel tanks by air, presumably by dropping containers attached to parachutes.

Existing battle plans of the army provide that refueling the tanks immediately behind the battlefield shall be done by trucks loaded with 10-gallon containers, which can be thrown away as they are used. Farther back from the front are to be fuel tank trucks.

Undergraduates Train

VANCOUVER (CP) — More than 70 undergraduates of the University of British Columbia here and graduates of other universities have been enrolled in a special summer Canadian officers' training corps course, which opened Tuesday.

Closing August 17, the course will give preliminary instruction in infantry work and will fit students to sit for the first of two papers required to obtain reserve commissions.

Officials of the corps said the regular training course will open in September and will probably be open to graduates as well as undergraduates. It will continue until May, when examinations will be written.

Sentence Commuted

DUBLIN (CP) — President Douglas Hyde has commuted to life imprisonment the death sentence of Tomas MacCurtain, 22-year-old son of the former Lord Mayor of Cork. MacCurtain, a leader of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, was sentenced for the slaying of Detective John Roche at Cork January 5.

Beaverbrook Warns

LONDON (CP) — Lord Beaverbrook's newspaper, the Daily Express, today warned Britons against expecting too much from the United States and Russia, and said "our survival in the next few months depends on ourselves alone."

"It is true both Russia and America have a common interest with us in defeating Hitler," said the Daily Express. "It is true they have a common interest with us in checking Japan in the Far East, and we could take joint action now in that part of the world. But there is no reason to expect either Russia or the United States to declare war on Germany in the near future."

R.A.F. Hits Italian Hangar, Fuel Dump

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — The Royal Air Force issued the following communique today:

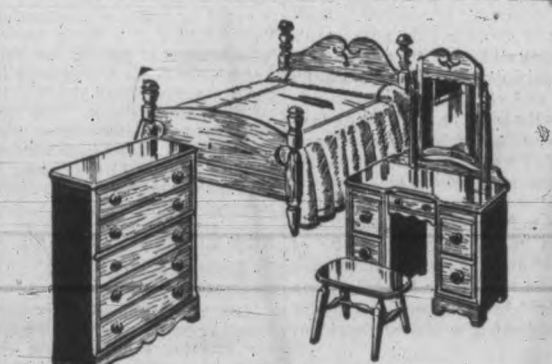

"Sidi Barrani was bombed yesterday by enemy aircraft with only slight damage and no casualties. A formation of Blenheims attacked a large petrol dump near Tobruk (Italian Libya). Direct hits were registered on the target and large flames were seen.

"Several raids were carried out on the Macaca airdrome and landing grounds. In the evening a direct hit was registered on one hangar, much black smoke resulting.

"The following day the airdrome buildings were bombed and several fires started, while another raid was carried by bombers supported by fighters. The latter destroyed three CR-42's (Italian planes) on the ground by machine gun fire.

"All our aircraft returned safely from these operations. Large formations of enemy aircraft raided Malta yesterday. Our fighters intercepted and shot down two in flames. A third probably was destroyed. Damage was slight. Casualties were one civilian killed, three injured, 20 goats and one bull killed."

Speed-up

IN CANADA'S SPEED-UP OF WAR PRODUCTION, orders amounting to more than $100,000,000 have been placed within the last 30 days. The rate of production on these orders will depend on the number of qualified workers available. About 20,000 skilled and semiskilled workers, it is estimated, are immediately needed in our war industries. To satisfy this need, the National Labor Supply Board is launching a country-wide labor census to find out how many qualified workers there are and where. Industries also may be classified so that skilled men engaged in less essential occupations may be drafted and transferred to war industries. It may also be that men engaged on war orders may not be permitted to change to other jobs without showing reasonable cause.

Such a census will provide a "close-up" of the country's labor supply and labor reserve, classify the skilled, semiskilled and unskilled, show their points of concentration. It should answer questions as to the extent of a skilled labor shortage and as to when a person may be classed as "unemployable." It will be constructive from the point of view of employment as well as in the way of pushing our industrial machine to its maximum production.

Curtailment

CURTAINMENT OF THE PLAN TO EVACUATE children from England to Canada and United States is indicated in London. This word comes just when we have organized on this side for the handling of young refugees in large numbers.

There will be disappointment if the curtailment should be extensive for the prospect of providing refuge for the children of England has captured the imagination of the people of this continent. The response to the plan as it was getting under way may be pointed to as one of the most heartening developments of the war. Men and women on every side have been welcoming the coming of the children as opening to them opportunity to be of some direct service to the cause.

Lack of naval ships for adequate convoy protection is given as reason for modifying the plan. It is to be hoped that this will not stand as an insurmountable difficulty. It has been possible to provide adequate convoy for the ships which have brought thousands of children paying their way to Montreal and New York during the last couple of weeks. It would be unfortunate, both now and particularly for future political and social harmony, if the suspicion were allowed to spread that there is less concern for the other children, now that the heirs of the "best families" have been carried to safety.

Empire Ownership

ONE OF THE MOST PERNICIOUS LIES disseminated by the Nazi propaganda department presided over by the Herr Doktor Goebbels is that which seeks to convey the idea to all sundry that it is "a savage injustice" that "a nation of only 45,000,000" should own a quarter of the globe "while the great German nation has to go without living space." This is a complete misstatement of fact and the German Fuehrer and his cohorts know it to be so. But they know also that most maps throughout the world show countries and parts of countries over which the Union Jack flies in red—emblematic of the British connection.

Britain does not "own" the empire at all—as Sir Norman Angell points out in his "What Is the British Empire?"—for it owns itself and governs itself, and disposes of its own resources as it pleases. Into the minds of the peoples in neutral countries, however, is put an idea and a picture: the idea of the Empire as an estate owned, to quote the famous British author, "by inhabitants of these islands for their sole profit and enrichment; and a picture of John Bull as an obese, plutocratic landowner, possessing more territory than he can use." Here, then, are some facts about empires which Sir Norman quotes to prove the falsity of the claim:

"British capital has more at stake in the Argentine than in all the British dependent Empire. . . . In the last five years more people have emigrated from the overseas Empire to Britain, than have gone from Britain to the overseas Empire. . . . The United States, which does not 'own' Canada, sells to it three times as much as Britain does. . . . Of the $334,000,000 worth of foodstuffs imported by Great Britain in 1934, only $26,000,000 worth was supplied by the colonies. . . . All the colonies' protectorates, dependencies and mandates of the world contribute 10.6 per cent of total world trade. . . . The exports of Britain to her colonial Empire represents 11.2 per cent of her total exports. . . . During the 19th century the bulk of raw cotton used by the Lancashire cotton industry was procured from the United States of America. . . . The whole British Empire employs fewer British officials than the number of persons employed in Cadbury's, Rowntree's and Wills' factories. . . . Of France's foreign investments in 1914, only 4 per cent was invested in her colonies. . . . The proportion of raw material Germany used to draw from her colonies was one-half of 1 per cent. . . . More Germans were earning their livelihood in the City of London in July, 1914, than in all the German colonies of the whole world put together. . . . During the years 1894 to 1913 the German expenditure on the colonial empire, exclusive of defence, was in the neighborhood of 1,002,000,000 marks. In the same period the total German trade with the empire was 972,000,000 marks. . . . Three per cent only of the staple raw materials of the world come from colonies. . . . Neither Germany nor Italy is as densely populated as Great Britain, Holland or Belgium. The figures are (per square mile): Germany, 362; Italy, 355; Belgium, 707; Holland, 673; Britain, 488."

Sir Norman Angell points out, however, that Britain's extreme right thinks if the Goebbels view is not right it should be made right, and that there should be a crusade for a ring fence round the Empire. Some Left-wingers, of course, object to the war because they argue it is being fought to continue Britain's "imperialistic and capitalist exploitation of subject peoples." We in Canada, of course, understand how the Empire is run, who runs it, and, in consequence, know that the "ownership" claim of the Nazi propagandist-in-chief is ridiculous. The present status of Elre, incidentally, proves how slender is the "empire tie"—the slender tie which makes the whole structure strong and feared by Hitler.

Unjust and Unpatriotic

NEILLIE MCCLUNG, ADDRESSING A Calgary luncheon gathering, said that Canadians who voice wholesale condemnation of all Canadian citizens of enemy country extraction are making a serious mistake. By assuming that attitude, she argued, they are denying to others the very freedom which they are battling for themselves. Unquestionably, the loyalty to the cause of Britain in this war on the part of many Canadian citizens of enemy country extraction is beyond question. Wholesale condemnation thus means unfairness to them.

The Canadian police authorities are quite capable of handling Canada's Fifth Column job, Mrs. McClung suggested. Therefore, by all means report to them anything of a suspicious nature, but don't by word or act make life in the country of adoption any more unpleasant than the circumstances of war against their motherlands imposes upon these citizens.

Mrs. McClung does well to emphasize these points again. They need constant re-emphasizing as under the war strain our emotions tend to play havoc with our judgment. If we are to attain to our utmost in war efficiency and striking power, we must be united on the home front just as must the army in the field. Making life harder for any group through unfounded suspicions works only to impede our war effort. The police if quietly notified can soon discover if suspicions are well founded and can be depended upon to act accordingly.

Notes

German mothers must wonder what Hitler is gaining that is half as precious as the lives he is spending.

"Man is the only animal that laughs." Patient research through recent history fails to show what causes this.

After several weeks of invisibility, when it was lost in the glare of the sun, the planet Venus is now visible again, but in the morning rather than the evening sky. Looking to the east before sunrise it is easy to locate because it is the most brilliant object in that direction. In fact, it is now so bright, magnitude minus four in the astronomer's scale, that it can even be seen in full daylight if one knows where to look.

Vincent Sheehan has a topical anecdote in one of his recent articles. He says it is rather popular in Italy. It seems that a citizen every day went to his favorite newsstand in Rome, bought the first paper he saw, glanced at the front page and then threw it away. He did this every day for quite a spell. One day the curious news vendor asked him why he just glanced at the front page and then tossed it aside. "I am looking for a death notice," replied the man. "But said the vendor, 'the death notices are inside.' . . . 'The one I am looking for,' said the man, 'will be on the first page.'"

CELONA IN AGAIN

From Vancouver Sun
Viewing the granting of a ticket-of-leave to Celona as an act of bad judgment, the Crown quickly repaired what appeared to be an error and insult against organized society. But the necessity for this action, this repudiation of an official mistake, ought never to have arisen.

Celona had complied with the technical requirements in that he had served half his term, had a credit for "good conduct" and obviously had a majority of the court of officials, judge, jury, prosecutor and others, sufficiently on his side that they did not register any objection to his application for parole.

Now we arrive at the very fair explanation of the Attorney-General. But to the ordinary reader, the role played by the chief law officer of the Crown of this province was not sufficient. It is surely silly to continue a routine whereby the Attorney-General merely collects the opinions of various inferior officials without feeling called upon to give his own view of the matter. Our thought is that a change in the practice is very desirable.

The Attorney-General is the officer, in fact, who should make a recommendation or turn it down and give his reasons. The judge has sentenced the accused—why should the judge be asked to modify his opinion? The prosecuting counsel is more often than not a political appointee and has no permanent special standing as an officer of the court. Why should the Minister of Justice take his advice after several years have elapsed since the case was tried?

LIVE AGAIN

THERE WILL ALWAYS BE a great difference between subduing a multitude and ruling a society. Even if scattered individuals were successively enslaved by one man, however numerous they might be, I still see no more than a master and his slaves, and certainly not a people and its ruler; I see what may be termed an aggression, but not an association; there is as yet neither public good nor body politics. The man in question, even if he has enslaved half the world, is still only an individual; his interest, apart from that of others, is still a purely private interest. If this same man comes to die, his empire, after him, remains scattered and without unity, as an oak falls and dissolves into a heap of ashes when the fire has consumed it.

The strongest is never strong enough to be always the master, unless he transforms strength into right, and obedience into duty. Hence the right of the strongest, ironically enough, is really laid down as a fundamental principle. But are we never to have an explanation of this phrase? Force is a physical power, and I fail to see what moral effect it can have. To yield to force is an act of necessity, not of will—at the most an act of prudence. In what sense can it be duty?

Suppose for a moment this so-called "right" exists. I maintain that the sole result is a mass of inexplicable nonsense. For, if force creates right, the effect changes with the cause: Every force that is greater than the first succeeds to its right. As soon as it is possible to disobey with impunity, disobedience is legitimate; and, the strongest being always in the right, the only thing that matters is to act so as to become the strongest. But what kind of right is that which perishes when force falls? If we must obey force, there is no need to obey because we ought; and if we are not forced to obey, we are under no obligation to do so. Clearly, the word "right" adds nothing to force: in this connection, it means absolutely nothing.

OBEY THE POWERS THAT BE. If this means yield to force, it is a good precept, but superficial: I can answer for its never being violated. All power comes from God, I admit; but so does all sickness: does that mean that we are forbidden to call in the doctor? A brigand surprises me at the edge of a wood: must I not merely surrender my purse on compulsion; but, even if I could withhold it, am I not in conscience bound to give it up? For certainly the pistol he holds is also a power.

Let us then admit that force does not create right, and that we are obliged to obey only legitimate powers.

It will be said that the despot assures his subjects civil tranquillity. Granted; but what do they gain, if the wars his ambition brings down upon them, his insatiable avidity, and the vexatious conduct of his ministers press harder on them than their own dissensions would have done? What do they gain, if the very tranquillity they enjoy is one of their miseries? Tranquillity is found also in dungeons; but is that enough to make them desirable places to live in? The Greeks imprisoned in the cave of the Cyclops lived very tranquilly, while they were awaiting their turn to be devoured.

TO SAY THAT A MAN gives himself gratuitously, is to say what is absurd and inconceivable; such an act is null and illegitimate, from the mere fact that he who does it is out of his mind. To say the same of a whole people is to suppose a people of madmen; and madness creates no right.

Even if each man could alienate himself, he could not alienate his children; they are born men and free; their liberty belongs to them, and no one but they themselves have the right to dispose of it. Before they come to years of discretion, the father can, in their name, lay down conditions for their preservation and well-being, but he cannot give them irrevocably and without conditions; such a gift is contrary to the ends of nature, and exceeds the rights of paternity. It would therefore be necessary, in order to legitimize an arbitrary government, that in every generation the people should be in a position to accept or reject it; but, were this so, the government would be no longer arbitrary.

To renounce liberty is to renounce being a man, to surrender the rights of humanity and even its duties. For him who renounces everything no indemnity is possible. Such a renunciation is incompatible with man's nature; to remove all liberty from his will is to remove all morality from his acts. Finally it is an empty and contradictory convention that sets up, on the one side, absolute authority, and, on the other, unlimited obedience. Is it not clear that we can be under no obligation to a person from whom we have the right to extract everything? Does not this condition alone, in the absence of equivalence or exchange, in itself involve the nullity of the act? For what right can my slave have against me, when all that he has belongs to me, and his right being mine, this right of mine against myself is a phrase devoid of meaning?

LESS WOULD HAVE BEEN CRIMINAL MADNESS

From New York Post

The British had no practical choice. They had to take the French fleet while they could, once it became apparent that its commanders intended to follow the orders of the Nazi puppet government headed by Marshal Pétain. To do less would have been criminal madness. It would have been betrayal not only of the British people but of the people of France as well; the world knows what the word of Hitler is worth. His promise not to use the French fleet in the war could not be accepted by a sane mind. To let the great navy of Britain's ally fall into his hands would have been giving a machine gun to a gangster.

MYSTERY IN FRANCE

THE NAZI-CONTROLLED news agencies tell us that the French Chamber of Deputies, as well as the Senate, voted almost unanimously for the setting up of a French version of totalitarian government. What are we to think of all this? Have the French suddenly become a nation of cowards, scoundrels, or plain idiots? Or are there other possible explanations?

I do not for one moment believe that France as a nation has sunk to a new low level of morality. Neither enemies without nor traitors within can prevent France from rising once again. The French are a great people. If we did not learn that in the hundreds of years in which France and England were traditional enemies, and France and Scotland allies, we should have learned it in those years in which we all fought side by side. A month ago it would have been inconceivable that large numbers of our people would have been cursing the French up hill and down dale. The truth is that the French people have had nothing whatever to do with what has happened. They have done the real land fighting on the fronts—including the very last fine rear-guard action to cover our own evacuation at Dunkerque. It was their women and children who were slaughtered on the roads, by bombs and machine guns and crushing tanks. If their government felt compelled to surrender it was not their fault. With the disgraceful terms of that surrender the people of France have had not the slightest part. Indeed, they have known even less of what has been happening than we have over here.

WHY THE SUICIDE?

BUT WHY DID the French Chamber vote 395 to 3 to set up a totalitarian government in France, and so commit virtual political suicide?

One possible explanation is that it did no such thing. We have so far only the word of the Nazi governors that such is what actually happened. But when we are told that both Paul Reynaud and Léon Blum were in attendance, and that neither voted against the proposed change, then there is something radically wrong with the story.

Another possible explanation is out-and-out terrorism. Knickerbocker, famous U.S. newspaperman, cables specifically that French naval officers were privately told that if they failed to obey the orders of the Petain government, which in turn takes orders from the German military governors, that their wives and children would be sent to concentration camps, to be dealt with by Nazi secret police. General Eugene Mittelhauser, who was

DANGEROUS PURITY

From The London Spectator

A suggestively paradoxical epigram was made to me the other day by a distinguished man of science and (with the proviso that it has no moral reference) I may be allowed to quote it. We were discussing food in wartime, and he said, "Nothing is so foul as purity." The whiteness of bread sacrifices savour and sustenance. Cider is robbed of its full taste because the public insists on unclouded brightness. Even olive oil is spilt by needless purification. Year by year it is being proved by science that purification robs a number of foods of necessary ingredients, sometimes virtually intangible and invisible. The synthetic product and the much purified natural product both miss essentials. The just moral seems to be: use flour made from the newly invented milling process.

NEW HOPES FOR MOVIES

By Sydney Skolsky, Hollywood Correspondent

Now that Hollywood has been forced to produce pictures mainly for America, the likes and dislikes of country cousins—those ticket buyers in the small towns—take on more importance. The best indicator of what those people have to say about the movies can be found in the small town exhibitor's own column, "What the Picture Did for Me," in the Motion Picture Herald.

I shall let them speak for themselves. Exhibitor W. Varick Nevins of Alfred, N.Y., writes about "Rebecca": "The main comment was this: 'Why can't all pictures follow the book as well as "Rebecca"? I hope more producers will pay attention to this fact. Quite a few people around here

French commander in Syria, is quoted as saying the same thing. There are fools who say "Oh the Germans would not do that." The Nazis not only would do it, but have already done it in thousands of cases in their own country, and in other countries they have conquered or purchased through traitors. Indeed it is standard Nazi technique.

It may be that every French deputy on whom the Gestapo could lay hands was terrorized into attending the session, told to vote so and so by such and such a time, or else take the consequences.

Another possible explanation of the size of the majority is this: That the French politicians, realizing that it is too late to offer any effective immediate resistance, have entered into a sort of general conspiracy to pretend to submit to the Germans, while biding their time, and hoping to outwit the Germans in the new European set-up which Hitler seems determined to establish. Raymond Gram Swing is inclined to take this view. Laval, the wily and extremely slippery customer who is now in the real driver's seat in France, even if he has a Nazi gun stuck in his ribs, is a close friend of Mussolini's.

WHEN WOMEN FIGHT

FRANCE, of all the countries in the western world, is the most feminine. One of my shrewdest (married) friends said to me on the very day of the French capitulation: "France will do what the eternal feminine always does in such circumstances. She will let the other fellow think he has won, switch the scene of fighting and choose other weapons to get her way."

Whatever history shows, it is that the femininity of France is of no clinging vine type. It was a girl on a white horse who drove us English out of France, when we had no more right to be there than Hitler has to be there now.

It was the women of France who were the basis and relentless driving force behind the French revolution. It was a lone French girl who used her own head and her own hand to end the reign of terror of the Himmier of another day.

That is why I feel sure that France will rise again. I personally feel pained when I hear abuse of France. France has her fools and traitors, as we have within our ranks. Maybe if France had arrested in time people in high places like Churchill is arresting now, France would not have fallen as she has. Maybe, on the other hand, we shall find that there is more to the fifth column in Britain than one naval admiral, one captain of the guards, a couple of country persons, and a few blackshirts like playboy Mosley.

have almost quit going to pictures made from books they have read because they claim changing the story ruins the book for them. They're pretty smart in the small towns these days. Say, some of those tanktown citizens are smarter than Hollywood producers.

STOP DEAD, STAY ALIVE

JOE CELONA AND WOMEN'S COUNCIL

To the Editor:—With reference to the case of Joe Celona, it is with astonishment and dismay in reading through the resolutions of protest voiced by Mayor Telford and various organizations, that I found no mention of the Local Council of Women, as I have always been under the impression that this group of women represented everything that made for a clean and orderly government.

It seems to me an appalling thing that any body of women could remain silent in this matter, a matter which vitally affects their own homes and those of every other woman in this province.

FIRING ACROSS CHANNEL

From Toronto Star

Perhaps the most important news is that the Germans are placing heavy artillery on the French coast that can fire across the English Channel. Circumstantial stories are being told about a monster gun that could fire all the way to London, a distance of 135 miles. Such a gun would be used, if at all, in an attempt to demoralize the British people rather than in the expectation of occasioning important military damage.

The guns that are being put in position may have an effective range of from 25 to 50 miles, and be designed to prepare the way for an army of invasion. British bombing planes attacked these gun positions and no doubt will keep blasting away at them. What luck the British had in dropping bombs on the long-distance guns is uncertain, but doubtless the bombers impeded the German plans. Hurricane fighter planes protected them in the face of very concentrated fire by anti-aircraft batteries.

PORT ALBERNI (CP)—The Port Alberni Assembly of the Canadian Daughters' League finished the "ambulance from Alberni" drive today with a total of $1,836.94. A cheque for that amount has been forwarded to Ottawa.

Past Directors Join in Appeal

Supporting the present board of directors of the Royal Jubilee Hospital in their worthy enterprise of constructing a new wing for the purpose of meeting Victoria's growing needs, and preparing for the hospitalization of repatriated war casualties, are directors, who in the past have served this institution during equally trying times.

Some of these directors were confronted with a similar situation during the last war, and are in a position to understand fully the urgency of the institution's need today.

Among those directors, who have served in the past, and who today are keenly interested in the welfare of Royal Jubilee Hospital are: D. G. Angus, who served from 1918 to 1931; Percy R. Brown, 1925 to 1929 and 1930 to 1934; James Forman, 1899 to 1909 and 1917 to 1937; Dr. J. D. Hunter M.P.P., 1934 to 1937; George McGregor, 1915 to 1934; Hon. Mr. Justice Harold B. Robertson, 1909 to 1912; Chris Spencer, 1905 to 1909; Alex Stewart, 1917 to 1925, and J. Stuart Yates, 1890 to 1900.

All these men during the course of their years of service have contributed to the advancement of that institution, and left behind a better hospital as a memorial to those who first conceived its establishment.

These men today join with the present directors in appealing to the public to support its own institution so that the sick, the lame and the dying may be brought succor from their sufferings.

To help these directors, who serve the public without gratuity, is comparatively simple. All that is required of every citizen is a contribution toward the building fund within each person's means to give.

In order to facilitate the giving of these donations, subscription lists have been posted in convenient downtown offices. These lists may be found at the following places: Both newspaper offices, all banks, municipal halls, the City Hall, the Royal Trust Company, David Spencer Ltd., the Hudson's Bay Company, and the hospital.

Make Plans for 'Silver Trail'

Blazing the way for the "Silver Trail," the unique plan of the newly-formed Victoria Women's Auxiliary to the Air Services, to raise money to buy planes for defence and training purposes at Patricia Bay, members of the organization made preliminary arrangements for the campaign at a meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Y.M.C.A.

Adopting the slogan, "A Silver Trail for Silver Wings," the members plan to climax their drive, starting July 15, with an unusual stunt on Saturday, July 20. From the Hudson's Bay Store along Douglas Street, on both sides of the street, to the Sussex Hotel, a trail of silver coins will be laid, made from contributions by Victoria citizens.

Miss Audrey Sturrock was placed in charge of the captains who will supervise the various blocks over which the trail will pass. Their names will be announced later. Treasurer for the campaign is Mrs. H. Winterburn. Arrangements were made for a central committee room at 1205 Douglas Street, where all inquiries may be sent.

More Canadians Traveling West

Returning yesterday from a two-and-a-half-week contact trip through four northern states and western Canada, Phil Raymond of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau brings reports of a marked increase in tourist travel to the Canadian west.

Entering Canada from the United States a few days after the regulation was brought in prohibiting Canadians to cross the border without passports, Mr. Raymond heard from many persons he contacted of the heavier Canadian traffic pouring out to the west coast. United States traffic in western Canada, he heard, was up over last year in many places. Canadian travel into the United States had dwindled.

All auto camps across the western half of the Dominion were enjoying a fine business, Mr. Raymond was informed. On the Big Bend Highway 43 tourist cars, mostly Canadian, were counted in one day. "That's about as many as we usually see in one month on that stretch of road," Sid Smith of Kamloops told the Victoria contact man. The highway had done much to encourage travel to British Columbia, he said.

Mr. Raymond motored 3,250 miles, taking Highway No. 10 through Washington, Idaho, Montana and North Dakota to Saskatchewan, and passing through that province, Alberta and British Columbia via Trans-Canada Highway on the return trip.

MAY LAND SALES SHOW BIG GAIN

Land sales in the city during May stood over 50 per cent above those for the corresponding month last year, according to figures released today by the city assessor-collector's department.

During May this year 94 parcels were sold for $145,746, against 54 which returned $90,228 last year.

Volume of transfers also showed a substantial gain, 45 properties worth $77,825 changing ownership through that channel in the month this year against 24 worth $47,820 in May, 1935.

changes being $24,918, against $32,750 in 1935.

Altogether $251,489 worth of real estate changed hands in May of this year against $170,798 for the same month in 1935.

Huge Wheat Stock

OTTAWA (CP)—Deliveries of wheat to country elevators in the three prairie provinces from August, 1939, to May, 1940, totaled 385,110,879 bushels, according to information tabled in the Commons yesterday by Trade Minister MacKinnan.

This compared with 281,255,243 bushels in the entire 1938-39 crop year, and 118,326,431 the previous crop year, the return stated.

China is believed to be the world's leading source of pepper, the value of this year's export mint oil.

Conservative Leader Says Time Trash

OTTAWA (CP) — Declaring there should be a prohibitive tax on "trash coming into Canada," Conservative Leader R. B. Hanson in the House of Commons yesterday condemned an article on Canadian preparedness in Time, a United States weekly news magazine.

He urged the government to do something to counteract articles appearing in widely circulated United States publications which do not present the true facts. He drew no reply from the ministry.

"Let me say at once that I never before read this magazine," Mr. Hanson said, "and judging by the number of inaccuracies it contains—inaccuracies which to me at least are apparent—I do not think I shall want to peruse it very often.

"In its issue of July 8, under the caption 'Canada—There Will Always Be an England,' appears an article which, if true, is a terrible reflection on this country. I just cannot believe that all the statements in this article are true. I do not believe it.

"There is a whole staff of press agents and propagandists attached to the ministry and I do not know any better purpose to which they could be put than to refute some of the statements that are in this article."

Bishop Coming West

CALGARY (CP)—Air Marshal W. A. Bishop, V.C., Canadian flying ace in the last war, took one look at a thundering chuck wagon as it crashed into the rail at the Calgary Stampede last night and exclaimed, "I'd rather be back in my plane."

The Air Marshal is flying across Canada, accompanied by his aide, P. C. Rodier.

He was one of the 37,000 people who attended the show to exceed by 1,807 the number who attended on the corresponding day last year.

The chuck wagon that crashed was the Dick Cosgrave outfit from Rosebud. Elmer Fleet, 33, was injured when crushed under his horse.

Smokers' Contest

At Menin, on the Belgian border, pipe-smoking contests are an annual event. Each contestant receives seven-hundredths of an ounce of tobacco and one match. Once lighted, the pipe must be kept going and show smoke at intervals. Winning time last year was 68 minutes.

Hard-of-Hearing Club Tea Success

Stimulus was given to the work of the Victoria Club for the Hard-of-Hearing by the very successful tea held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mary Spencer, Moss Street. Owing to the rain, the affair was held indoors instead of in the garden.

Miss L. Dodimead, first vice-president, introduced Ven. Archdeacon Robert Connell, who formally opened the affair. Flowers were massed throughout the hall and drawing-room, where the hostess was assisted in welcoming the guests by Mrs. B. C. Combe, general convener of the affair. The tea table in the dining-room was daintily arranged, the refreshments being in charge of Miss L. Dodimead and Miss Rita Carver.

Stalls included home cooking in charge of Mrs. T. C. Burley and Mrs. R. Sangster; candy, Mrs. W. H. Routledge and Mrs. R. C. Treherne; fancywork, Mrs. R. Pettigrew and Miss A. Game, and flowers, Mrs. C. H. Orme.

An added attraction was fortune telling by Miss Kate E. Gaudin and Mrs. Cowan, and entertainment was provided by a game of darts, managed by Mr. B. S. H. Tye. Mrs. Stewart played piano-forte music during the tea hour.

Successful Tea Held By Navy League W.A.

Transferred into the house owing to the rain, the garden party arranged at the home of Mrs. R. Shanks, Holmes Street, yesterday afternoon netted a goodly sum for the work of the Navy League W.A., of which the hostess is president. She was assisted in receiving the guests by Mrs. L. Mackenzie, vice-president.

The rooms were gay with Canterbury bells, godolita and clarkia, and a dainty buffet tea was served. Mrs. A. Spaven and Mrs. McConachie were in charge of arrangements, with the assistance of Mrs. Brooke Douglas, Mrs. R. Shanks Jr., and Mrs. F. J. Boughton. Mrs. L. A. Lucas, the treasurer, was in charge of the tea tickets.

House-housie was enjoyed, with Miss Amy Cashmore in charge, while the home cooking was sold by Mrs. J. Quinn. Contests were in charge of Mrs. L. Mackenzie.

Edna Wallace Hopper Has Face Lifted Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventy-five-year-old Edna Wallace Hopper, known to history as "the eternal flapper" and "the feminine fountain of youth," had her face lifted for the third time.

The surgeon, Dr. E. Daniel Shorel, yesterday described the operation as a success with the remark:

"Miss Hopper looks 20 years younger."

A former stage star—she was the leading lady in "Florodora" and the third wife of the late De Wolf Hopper, comedian—Miss Hopper had her face lifted first in 1919 and again in 1926.

She said she decided on the third operation because she wanted to return to the stage and wanted the public to see her as she was in the 1890's when she was starring in "The Girl I Left Behind Me."

Rothschild in U.S. With Jewel Fortune

NEW YORK (AP) — One million dollars in jewels—believed the largest sum yet brought to the United States by a war refugee—arrived on the Yankee Clipper yesterday in a small handbag carried by Baron Edouard de Rothschild, famous French banker.

The jewelry includes a $100,000 double-strand pearl necklace and jewel-studded old Rothschild family heirlooms—diamond bracelets, sapphire pendants, ruby and emerald rings.

Baron Edouard, one of the richest members of the great European banking family, is an erstwhile French senator, described by French leftists four years ago as "one of the real masters of France" because of his power as a regent of the Bank of France.

Their daughter, Miss Barbara Sellers, will remain for some time longer as the guest of her brother and sister-in-law.

Miss Jean Rosevear, R.N., whose marriage to Victor Sudlow will take place this month, was guest of honor at a tea and shower on Tuesday afternoon, given by Miss Ethel Ramsey at the home of her mother, Mrs. G. H. Ramsey, 2939 QuAppelle Street. The bride-to-be and her mother were presented with corsages. The gifts were concealed beneath the skirts of a doll dressed as a nurse. The invited guests were: Mesdames H. E. Rosevear, W. Hulme, N. Foster, A. Moss, S. Smith, C. Jungel, J. Grist, J. Baptist, W. Webster, L. Coulthard, G. H. Ramsey, and the Misses Ella Locke, Hazel Curry, Fay Smith, Kay Powell, Eileen Foster, Sylvia Grist and Ethel Ramsey.

Miss Betty Waldron, 41 Cadillac Avenue, was hostess on Tuesday evening at a kitchen shower honoring Mrs. Albert O. Newberry (nee Carlson) who was married recently. The guest of honor was presented with a corsage bouquet of roses and sweet peas and a kit bag filled with attractive gifts. Games and music were enjoyed and a buffet supper was served. The guests included Mesdames A. O. Newberry, C. Carlson, A. Buckingham, V. Waldron, J. Buckingham, and Misses Annie Halliday, Margaret Buckingham, Elsie, and Grace Ralph, Margaret Young, Dorothy Richdale, Joyce Cook, Gladys Moby, Dorothy Paxton and Phyllis Parker.

Friends of Miss Doris Minty, who is to be married on July 25 to Corporal Fred Usher, arranged a no-hostess party in the Rose room of Terry's on Tuesday evening, when they presented her with a corsage bouquet of pink carnations and a tea set in a gold and flowered pattern. Those present were Mrs. D. Hourigan and Miss Mary Grant, Margaret Stewart, Flossie Hughes, Beryl Fleming and Jean Scott.

Misses Timmy Nason and Eileen Lanigan were hostesses on Tuesday evening at a surprise miscellaneous shower given at Miss Lanigan's home on Woodlands Road, in honor of Miss Janet Marrior, a bride-to-be of next week. The pretty gifts were concealed in the fireplace, where the guest of honor discovered them behind a banked screen of sweet peas and gladioli. Miss Marrior also received a corsage bouquet of sweet peas and carnations. A buffet supper was served. The guests were Mesdames T. J. Marrior, C. M. Lanigan, Freethy and Misses Eileen Crewe, Stella Davies, Vimy Kilby, Doris Bell, Theo Tate, Bummy Applegate, Dorothy Turner and Anne Adams.

Miss Amy Vye was hostess at a miscellaneous shower at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Thompson, 3711 Craigmillar Avenue, in honor of Miss Claire Gilliland, who is to be married this week. The many attractive gifts were concealed in a dainty basket decorated in Nile green and orchid, and surmounted with a huge bow of the green. Mrs. W. J. Gilliland and the bride-to-be were both presented with fragrant corsage bouquets of pink carnations and mauve sweet peas. Mrs. F. C. Mawhinney presided at the prettily appointed supper table. Other guests included: Mrs. James Johnson (Ottawa), Mrs. George Thornbury, Mrs. Owen Newton, Mrs. Roy Linley, Mrs. Harry Gilliland and the Misses Ella and Nancy Ferguson, Eileen Foster and the Misses Gilliland.

Britons Feel Safe With Army at Home

The British public, dazed by the course of events leading up to the withdrawal of the B.E.F. from Flanders, regained its composure when the Tommies returned to England and maintained the conviction of ultimate victory, according to a letter received this week by Reginald Hayward from a cousin in Surrey.

"You ask me for news. What can I tell you? I feel as though we have been rushed along on a tidal wave, and I am dazed," the letter said.

"We have received nothing but staggering blows all along, and now France has fallen. It is unbelievable. Of course, it is out of the question that Hitler will give any sort of honorable peace. He doesn't know what that word means.

"If the French navy and air force come to us I feel all will be well in the end.

"In fact, I feel happier today than I have for weeks. Nearly all our army is home, except those killed and taken prisoners, and it gives a feeling of safety to our island. We are stronger at home now than we have ever been, and with the combined navies I feel Hitler has very little chance of landing his men in any great force, anyway, not more than we can cope with.

R.A.F. SUPERIOR

"Our air force, although smaller, is vastly superior in a fight; the majority of the Germans turn tail and run away rather than fight. Our pilots are marvelous and tackle the Germans at great odds and come off best.

"I also feel the world will boycott Germany, whereas we shall be supplied from every source. We shall get stronger and they will get weaker.

"Everything today seems now in our favor, but we shall have a formidable task in front of us to bring the Germans to dust.

"I feel sure evil cannot conquer righteousness in the end. If it does it is the end of all things and everything in which we have been brought up to believe.

"I dread to think of the fate

Fresher! MADE IN B.C.

NALLEY'S PURE MAYONNAISE

of all the weak and innocent countries in Europe this winter. Their plight will be dreadful. Our paper today says all the crops in Europe are poor, the animals are being killed for want of food supply and famine stares them in the face this winter. Any food there is the Germans will take and then cry out to the world that we are starving Europe. What of Russia? She is a sly dog. I wonder if she will stab Germany in the back now she is becoming exhausted. They say the German army losses are terrific.

NO GREAT HARDSHIP

"Up to now (June 20) our home life has really been very little affected. Of course, we had the blackout all winter, which was very trying for people who had to go out, and many were killed in street accidents. But in one's home it wasn't a hardship.

"Our food question has been well-handled and we have had plenty. Prices have been high and it has been hard on the poor people, as wages have not gone up in proportion.

"There is one thing," the letter added, "there will not be the profiteering that went on in the last war, and there won't be any 'get-rich-quick' people about."

Mr. and Mrs. William E. Townsend, the former Betsy Sharp, who were married in the garden at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Sharp, Cordova Bay, last Saturday.

WEDDINGS

SHEPHEARD-GUNNISS
Victoria shared interest in the pretty wedding celebrated at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Nanaimo, last evening at 6 when Miss May Clelland Gunniss, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Gunniss, Nanaimo, became the bride of Harold Berkeley Shepherd, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shepherd of 608 Toronto Street, Victoria.

Rev. E. G. MacDonald performed the ceremony in a setting of sweet peas, roses and greenery, and Mr. D. B. Arnett was at the organ. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Blackburn sang the solo "O Promise Me."

Mr. Gunniss gave his daughter in marriage. She was a radiant bride in her wedding gown of white French net and lace over tulle, and her filmy net veil fell to shoulder length from a sweetheart cap of seed pearls. Sweet peas and roses composed her bouquet.

The Misses Jean Gunniss, in blue, and Audrey Gunniss, in pink, were their sister's bridesmaids, both wearing frocks of marquisette over tulle, with wide-brimmed hats in contrasting colors, and carried bouquets of carnations and sweet peas. Mr. Jack Caddell of Victoria was groomsmen, and Messrs. George Gunniss, brother of the bride, and John Gerard were ushers.

After the ceremony, the bridal party and guests repaired to the Plaza Hotel where dinner was served from a table centred with the wedding cake, flanked by carnations and sweet peas. Mrs. Gunniss received in a Comoro afternoon gown with navy silk top coat, and hat of rose and navy. During the reception Mrs. Blackburn sang two solos, and Miss "Toots" Lowther contributed recitations which were much enjoyed.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. F. Shepherd, Mr. and Mrs. D. Bainave and Miss Anna Bainave, Mr. and Mrs. G. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. H. Maddaford, Mrs. M. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Reid, Mrs. E. Palmer and Mrs. Hudson, and Miss Hudson, all of Victoria. After their honeymoon trip, for which the bride donned a Caroline crepe dress in blue, with beige coat and rose accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd will make their home in Victoria.

HUTCHINSON-CARLIN

The marriage of Helen, daughter of Mrs. M. F. Carlin, McClure Street, and Pte. John E. Hutchinson, R.C.A.M.C., youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Hutchinson, Reynolds Road, took place quietly at 8 Tuesday morning in St. Andrew's Cathedral, with Rev. Father J. Monaghan officiating.

The pretty bride was given away by her brother, and wore a powder-blue floral silk frock, with navy blue hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses. Attending the bride was Miss Jeanette Kissinger, in a navy blue and white frock, with white hat and accessories, and a corsage bouquet of pink and white carnations. Sgt. Morris Crump, R.C.A.M.C., supported the groom.

The reception, at which relatives and a few friends were present, was held at the home of Mrs. George W. Allen, 2837 Gorge View Drive, sister of the groom. The bridal couple stood before the fireplace that was decked with flowers to receive the good wishes of their friends.

The wedding breakfast was served in the dining-room, prettily decorated in pink and mauve. A two-tier cake set in folds of pink tulle centred the table. Mrs. Bell and the Misses Rita Thompson and Jean Dobbie served.

After the honeymoon at Cowichan Lake, for which the bride donned a navy blue coat, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson will make their home in Victoria. Among the many gifts were a mantle clock from the members of the R.C.A.M.C., and a set of dishes from the staff of the china department of the Hudson's Bay, where the bride had been employed.

GUINNESS-BROWETT

At St. John's Church last evening at 8, V. A. Archdeacon F. C. Cornish united in marriage Mabel Winnifred, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Browett, 617 Herbyr Avenue, and Mr. Arthur Marcel Guinness, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Guinness, 3542 West First Avenue, Vancouver. Gladioli, roses and ferns were banked against the altar.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a pretty, girlish figure in her full-skirted frock of white net with insets of lace, a sweetheart neckline and short puffed sleeves coming to point at the elbow. She wore her mother's wedding veil, which was gathered into a coronet of orange blossoms, elbow-length lace mittens, and carried a sheaf of white gladioli and carnations.

Miss Nellie Browett was her sister's bridesmaid in a turquoise blue sheer frock with a quilted jacket and matching hat, and carried a round bouquet of cream roses. Mr. George Wigley, Vancouver, was best man, and Mr. Warden Browett and Mr. Pierre Guinness, Vancouver, brothers of the bride and groom, were ushers.

After the ceremony, a small reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, pink and yellow gladioli and roses decorating the rooms. Mrs. Browett received in a navy blue printed dress with a navy top, white accessories and a navy hat, assisted by Mrs. Guinness Sr. in a wine crepe gown and a grey hat trimmed with wine, wearing corsage bouquets of gardenias and roses and sweet peas and roses, respectively.

The supper table was centred with the bride's cake, flanked by white tapers and vases of white roses, and presided over by Mrs. George Guinness and Miss Hannah Taylor, who poured the tea and coffee.

After a honeymoon in Vancouver, for which the bride left in a navy blue redingote over a light blue dress, navy blue and white accessories, Mr. and Mrs. Guinness will make their home in the interior of British Columbia.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur L. Guinness, Mr. and Mrs. George Wigley, Mrs. E. G. Alme, Miss Marguerite Guinness and Mr. Pierre Guinness, all from Vancouver, were here for the wedding.

HEALD-MOFFAT

The marriage of Ada Isabel, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam P. Moffat, Mount Edwards Apartments, Victoria, and Mr. Sydney Earle Heald, elder son of Mrs. E. J. Heald and the late S. J. Heald, Shawnigan Lake, V.I., took place quietly at 11 on Wednesday morning at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, with Rev. J. L. W. McLean officiating.

ALEXANDER-MACKENZIE

St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church was effectively arranged with baskets of pink snapdragons and white stocks, and posies of sweet peas tied with white bows marked the guest pew for the wedding at 8.30 last evening of Eleanor Lillian, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. MacKenzie, 1051 Oliver Street, and Mr. Hector Lough Alexander, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Alexander, 209 Dallas Road. Capt. the Rev. Alan Gardiner performed the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a charming gown of white tulle with a slight train, a sweetheart neckline and log o'mutton sleeves. The low waistline at the back was shirred in slight bustle effect. Her shoulder veil fell from a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried a Colonial bouquet of pink rosebuds, white carnations and bouvardia, her only ornament being a double-strand pearl necklace, the gift of the bridegroom.

The bridesmaids were Miss Evelyn Florence Alexander, sister of the bridegroom, wearing rose pink, and Miss Margaret Harknett in turquoise. Their frocks were fashioned alike with frilled lace front, high necks and long sleeves with puffs of lace below the elbows caught into tight cuffs. Their halo hats of tulle matched their frocks, the brims being faced with frills of lace, and they had streamers in the contrasting color. Both carried Victorian bouquets of pink snapdragons and blue delphiniums.

Lieut. James Douglas Gillan was best man and the ushers were Lieuts. W. D. Hewlett and W. J. Macdonald, all fellow-officers of the bridegroom in the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the officers' mess annex at Macaulay Point. Standards of snapdragons, stocks and Shasta daisies made a pretty floral background. Mrs. MacKenzie received the guests in a navy blue and white printed crepe jacket frock with a matching hat, assisted by Mrs. Alexander, in a navy blue sheer ensemble and matching accessories. They both wore corsage bouquets of rosebuds.

Supper was served from a table centred with the bride's cake, and arranged with crystal baskets of sweet peas. Mr. Henry Law, an old family friend, proposed the toast to the bride.

When they left for their honeymoon on the mainland, the bride wore a frock of rose lace and sheer, a navy blue fitted coat with white lapels, white accessories and a corsage bouquet of orchids.

Miss Jean West, Vancouver, and Miss Dorothy Stinson, Hamilton, Man., were guests at the wedding.

DALE-JOHNSON-MORRILL

At St. Mary's Church, Vancouver, last evening at 8, Rev. Mortimer Lamb united in marriage Margaret Irma (Marnie), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Morrill, 3537 Dunbar Street, Vancouver, and Mr. Frank Hammon Dale-Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Dale-Johnson, 1122 Leonard Street, Victoria.

Mr. Morrill gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a floor-length redingote frock of white net and lace, with net veil beneath a coronet of orange blossoms, and carried a bouquet of red and cream rosebuds and sweet peas.

Her only attendant was Miss Doreen Dale-Johnson, sister of the groom, in a turquoise blue net and lace dress, with shepherd's hat and mitts to match, and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations and white sweet peas. Mr. Lloyd Morrill, brother of the bride, supported the groom.

The organist, Mr. Robinson, played the wedding music, and Mrs. Grace Clark sang "Through the Years." Gladioli, sweet peas and wild fern were arranged in the church, and the pews were marked with white bells and fern tied with white bows.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. Crowe, 1911 Waterloo Street, Vancouver, where the bride's mother, Mrs. J. H. Morrill, in a chiffon gown of Royal blue with matching accessories, was assisted by the groom's mother, Mrs. W. Dale-Johnson, wearing grey with navy blue accessories, in receiving the guests. Both wore corsage bouquets of rosebuds. Mrs. A. W. Crowe and Mrs. V. A. Scott (Paul Lake), aunts of the bride, presided at the tea and coffee urns.

The bride chose a dusky pink frock with Kolinsky fur bolero, brown turban and matching brown accessories, for the wedding trip to Echo Lodge, Paul Lake, Kamloops. After the honeymoon, they will make their home at 436 Stannard Avenue, Victoria.

Mr. W. Dale-Johnson, father of the groom, was unable to attend, as he is a patient in St. Joseph's Hospital.

By PETE SALLAWAY

SOME WEEKS ago a flare-up took place in Victoria box lacrosse when certain clubs protested the work of the referees. A get-together was held and after the boys had talked matters over it was decided the men in white were a pretty good bunch of fellows and everybody left the session with the spirit of good fellowship prevailing.

Tuesday night we attended the game between the Bays and Alerts and saw pretty good evidence of just why the refs have their troubles. The first thing that struck us was the apparent lack of control the referees have over the players. The officials fail to command the proper respect from the competitors. In order to keep a game and the players in complete control the referees must have matters in the palm of their hands at all times.

Once a decision is made it should never be changed. And one referee should not have the power to overrule another. Let each official step onto the floor with the same amount of authority. Split the court into equal sections and let each referee be responsible for his part of the playing space. Referees should take no back talk from the players, except in the case of a team captain, who may be given the right to question a decision, providing he uses the proper conduct.

Eastern boxing writers in commenting on the recent fling comeback of Jack Dempsey against a pudgy, slow wrestler, opine the former Manassa Mauler is broke. Otherwise he would not have asked his aging legs again to attempt to carry him around a ring.

They did not attempt to say Dempsey has empty pockets and scant credit, but said he has only a small slice left of the more than a million dollars he earned in the ring.

Unfortunate investments are said to have put a heavy dent in Dempsey's bankroll. Too, he has been a luxury liver, and although he can still produce something like $40,000 a year, his nest egg is gone, so it is reported. Dempsey received approximately $10,000 for his recent fight. That isn't hay. Also, it is more than he can collect for refereeing bouts, hence he is willing to sign for additional fights if big money comes with them and opponents are hand picked.

There is just a touch of sadness about Dempsey's situation, if all reports are true. He made enough money fighting to be independent. Now, when he should have on his slippers and be taking things easy, his bankroll is gone and his means of making another like it have gone, too. What he is after is pin money compared to what he has made. But he needs pin money now.

Coast Stars Win Kelowna Tennis

KELOWNA, B.C. (CP)—Caroline Deacon and Jean Eckhart, both of Vancouver, advanced to the finals in the women's singles of the interior of British Columbia tennis tournament here yesterday, scoring easy victories in the semifinals.

Miss Deacon turned back Marion Elmore, Kelowna, 6-0, 6-1, and Miss Eckhart beat Jocelyn Pease, another Vancouver entry, 7-5, 6-1.

In the men's singles Jack Brown, Vancouver, star seeded No. 1, advanced to the semifinals by a 6-4, 6-2 win over W. Stohlberg, Vancouver junior. It was the only quarter-final match played in the men's singles.

SCALZO BEATS IVY

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Pete Scalzo, New York, mixing experience with a vicious two-fisted attack, successfully defended his National Boxing Association world's featherweight title last night against Bobby (Poison) Ivy.

Referee Billy Taylor halted the bout at the end of the 14th round because of a bad cut on the challenger's lip.

QUEBEC (CP)—Always one of the Dominion's leading netmen, lanky Ross Wilson of Toronto has come out of retirement temporarily to play the tennis of his career in the Canadian championships.

Ross, a member of the Canadian Davis Cup team in 1938, announced his retirement last season. The lure of the game proved too strong, however, and he's back for one last fling at a Dominion singles title.

The word around tournament circles is that Wilson is definitely the man to beat. His game was flawless as he disposed of young Bob Watt Jr., in short order in the quarterfinals yesterday.

His opponent in the semifinal today will be Lewis Duff of Montreal, sixth-ranking player in the Dominion. The other finalist will be decided by the match between Don McDiarmid of Ottawa, third in Dominion rankings, and Roger Durrivage of Montreal who eliminated Phil Pearson of Montreal, formerly of Vancouver, yesterday.

FOUR SET DUEL

The match between Durrivage and Pearson was halted by rain with Durrivage leading 5-7, 6-2, 7-5.

On resumption of play, Durrivage took the next set 7-5 for the victory.

Miss Eleanor Young of Vancouver, favored to take the women's singles, did not play in that division yesterday but teamed with Durrivage to defeat the Quebec team of Jean Lepine and Helen Trudelle 6-1, 6-1, in the second round of mixed doubles.

The Eleanor Young-Jean Milne women's doubles match against Mrs. H. Jones and Mrs. F. V. Woodbury of Halifax was set over until today because of the rain.

Major Hockey Will Continue

MONTREAL (CP)—Colonel John Reed Kilpatrick, president of the Madison Square Garden Corporation, said in an interview last night that he believed the National Hockey League would operate as usual next season.

Col. Kilpatrick stopped over in Montreal between planes, en route to Banff, Alta., where his family is holidaying. He plans to visit Red Dutton of New York Americans in Winnipeg on his way, and to see Lester Patrick of Rangers in Victoria as well. He said that he wanted to find out how the war is likely to affect players of the two teams.

"As far as the National Hockey League is concerned, I have no reason to believe it won't operate as usual with the same seven teams, but I'm not certain as to the future of Rangers and Americans," he said.

"Down there we don't know how this new conscription bill is going to take effect and that's why I came up. Most of our Rangers are pretty young, and possibly they won't be available for hockey next year. That would be bad."

Hilarious Hymie Caplin, Jenkins' manager, heard about this a short time later, and fell right in with the script. First he waved his left arm; then he waved his right; then he waved both and screamed:

"Eddie can't do this to us. I'm going to have the commission hold a preview weigh-in, before the regular one scheduled for next Wednesday noon. If Armstrong weighs under 136 pounds, I'm going to make Moad take him out and feed him a beef stew or a bowl of borscht or something. Then they can bring him back and hold the regular weigh-in."

THE WEATHER

VICTORIA 5 a.m. today—A shallow depression is centered off the Washington coast, while pressure remains high over the Canadian Rocky Mountains. The weather has been unsettled and showery with fog on the coast, while it remains warm over the interior of British Columbia. Scattered showers have occurred in the prairie provinces.

BREAKS SWIM MARK—Otto Jaretz, 18, of Chicago, set a new United States mark of 2:13.1 in the 220-yard freestyle event at the National A.A.A. meet in Santa Barbara, beating the mark set by Johnny Weissmuller hung up 23 years ago.

AS NATIONALS WON BASEBALL CLASSIC—Here's some first inning action in the National vs. American League all-star game at St. Louis, taken by the Nationals 4 to 0. Arky Vaughn, Pittsburgh Pirate shortstop, who opened with a single, is shown sliding to third against Travis of the Washington Senators, after Herman singled in a hit-and-run play. He was safe and scored right afterward.

Weight Problem Myth

Armstrong Ready

NEW YORK (AP)—Henry Armstrong's weight woes turned out yesterday to be just a fairly tale told by large Eddie Mead in his own inimitable style, as part of the deep, dark plot.

Starting out with the traditional "once up a time," and stopping just short of where "they lived happily ever after," Eddie had moaned for days that his welterweight, 140 lb., couldn't get below 144 pounds, despite an agreement that he would scale no more than 140 for his non-title fight with Lew Jenkins, a week next Wednesday night at the Polo Ground.

One of New York state's athletic commissioners, however, is an old Missourian, so the fistic fathers told large Eddie to bring Henry down from his training camp and show them. Henry checked in at the commission offices yesterday, stepped on the scales, and the whole thing blew up in large Eddie's face. For the scales showed Hammering Hank to be exactly 138 lb.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk, Well, whad'ya know about that," murmured large Eddie. The commissioners couldn't see the joke and thought an explanation was in order.

EXPLAINS ANGLES

With that, large Eddie glanced cautiously over both shoulders, one at a time, that is—then leaned over in a confidential whisper, just loud enough for newspapermen to hear, explained he had given out the 144 figure because he did not want the Jenkins claim to learn the true state of affairs.

"Y'see," he explained the angles of his plan, "I figured on bringing Henry under 135 pounds. Then, if he beat Jenkins, he could claim Jenkins' lightweight championship."

Club shooters will continue their bids for the two trophies on Sunday. Trapshooters are gunning for the H. A. Hummer Cup and skaters for the C.I.L. Shield.

Ward Well Down In Western Golf

MINNEAPOLIS (AP)—Jim Ferrier of Australia and Art Doering of Chicago tied at 142 for medalist honors in the 36-hole qualifying test of the 41st annual western amateur golf tournament yesterday.

The 25-year-old Australian open and amateur titlist shattered par by three strokes for a 69. He had a 73 Tuesday. Doering, leader at the end of the first 18 holes with a 70, equalled par of 72 yesterday.

Among those in the 148 bracket was Johnny Goodman of Omaha, former National amateur and open titlist.

Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, the tennis star, had 149, and Bud Ward of Spokane, national amateur titlist, shot a 150.

A new navel orange ripens during months when there is little frost danger.

Dean to Start For All-Stars

FORT WORTH, TEXAS (AP)—Inching toward the life of gentleman farmer, Dizzy Dean, the great pitcher with the tired arm, gets one more curtain call from baseball's fandom tonight.

The tall farm boy, just 29, will toe the mound as the starting pitcher for the northern division in the Texas League's annual all-star game before an expected throng of 8,000.

Shipped back to the minors only a few weeks ago by Chicago Cubs after his worn arm failed to respond in major league tests, Diz has a good win-and-loss record since returning to the Texas League—but the real story has been veiled.

Dean has been able to last out only one of five games. Relief hurlers saved him on four occasions.

But he will get the starting call for a three-inning stretch, at least. Manager Rogers Hornsby, another great routed from the majors a few seasons back, put Dean back in the glamour role by naming him as his starting pitcher.

SOFTBALL LEADERS BATTLE TONIGHT

Senior softball leaders, Longshoremen and Camerons, get the spotlight this evening when they meet in a league tussle at Athletic Park at 6. Three victories ahead of the millhounds, Longshoremen will be out to improve their chances of clinching the first playoff berth and the bye in the playoffs.

Ray Bayers is likely to get the nod in the stevedores' camp for the hurling duties, and Eddie Dempster will probably start for Camerons.

Deadlocked in third berth, Brunsons' Veterans and Garrison seek sole occupation of that spot when they meet tonight at Victoria West Park. The playoffs are not far off and they are in a keen race for the third position in that series.

Games last night were rained out.

PATTY BERG JOINS PRO GOLF RANKS

CHICAGO (AP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis, women's United States golf champion in 1938, turned professional yesterday, signing a six-year contract with a Chicago sporting goods company. It was indicated the 22-year-old Minneapolis girl's salary would be approximately $7,500 a year.

The red-haired Patty will teach the game and give exhibitions on college and high school campuses throughout the country.

TREBLES STAFF

Department of munitions and supply contracts for naval uniforms have virtually trebled the staff of Robert Rankin, Victoria tailor who specializes in uniforms.

In place of the usual five or six employees engaged by Mr. Rankin, he now has 15, and is working on a mass production system that will be assisted by acquisition of another $1,500 worth of machinery for his Victoria plant.

Mr. Rankin holds a $17,000 contract to supply uniforms for naval ratings, mainly petty officers. That should mean about 1,100 uniforms in the course of the year.

HOW ABOUT ONE FOR BRENTWOOD?—When Jefferson County Bass Association launched contest at Clayton, N.Y., officials rigged up this system to make sure none of the entries came back with stories about "the one that got away." Judge Bob Hubbard is giving lie detector test to Margie Marshall.

Sets New Mark At Pistol Shoot

Constable J. A. Henry of the British Columbia Police yesterday is believed to have established a new international record for revolver shooting at 50 yards when he scored a possible 100 at the Thetis Lake range during the closing day of the city police annual revolver meet.

Constable Henry shot the possible during the national match course event for slow, timed and rapid fire.

Old-time revolver marksmen of the Pacific Northwest, who attended the shoot, said they could never remember a possible being turned in at the 50 yard mark, the former highest mark being a 99.

Seventeen-year-old Dick Trueblood, from Seattle, showed the way to many of the veterans in lifting the open grand aggregate award. Constable Ed. Sturrock copped the aggregate award for city police for the second consecutive year.

In the annual renewal of their international match, Sgt. Walter F. Day, Seattle, trimmed Inspector J. H. Rogers of the city police department by a substantial margin.

Results follow:

Open to any teams from any police department, club or organized body—1, B.C. Provincial Police No. 1 team: J. A. Young 272, W. G. Bailey 270, C. Clark 268, J. A. Henry 268, W. F. Conlan 261. Total 1,339.

GUN CLUB INVITES UNIFORMED MEN

Soldiers, sailors and air force men have been extended an invitation to participate in the Victoria Skeet and Gun Club's shoot to be held Sunday afternoon at the Albert Head Road shooting grounds.

Shooting will start at 1.30, with shells and guns obtainable at the grounds.

Club shooters will continue their bids for the two trophies on Sunday. Trapshooters are gunning for the H. A. Hummer Cup and skaters for the C.I.L. Shield.

Games last night were rained out.

Yellow Point
Grows
In Popularity

Season by Season, Yellow Point has increased in popularity until it now ranks as one of the busiest summer communities on Vancouver Island. Ideally situated on a long point of land jutting far out into the sea, it gives the illusion of being far away from the noise and bustle of the city. Yet in reality, it is only about 30 minutes by road to Ladysmith or Nanaimo, and less than a two-hour run from the city of Victoria.

Yellow Point is thickly wooded with many grassy slopes salting down to shelving white rocks or secluded coves of clean, fine sand. The main road from the Island Highway winds in and out under big shade-trees, skirts farmhouses and beaches. Many side-trails intersect all along the way. There is good swimming and splendid fishing. A perfect spot for a real outdoor holiday!

TILlicum CAMP
Tillicum Cottage Camp has grown with the popularity of Yellow Point. Now there are 18 housekeeping cottages, tucked under the trees at strategic points in the lovely acreage. They are all modern, up-to-date and completely furnished. A delightful seaside dining lodge with wide verandas looking out over the water completes the set-up. Delicious home-cooked meals are served. There is a well-stocked store and a telephone on the property, also a daily mail delivery. Special sports and amusements are arranged for the campers and everything possible is done to see that guests enjoy a good holiday.

Other resorts on Yellow Point are the Yellow Point Lodge with its interesting log chalet and Laguna Vista, a small, select cottage camp.

Maple Bay a
Real Summer Land

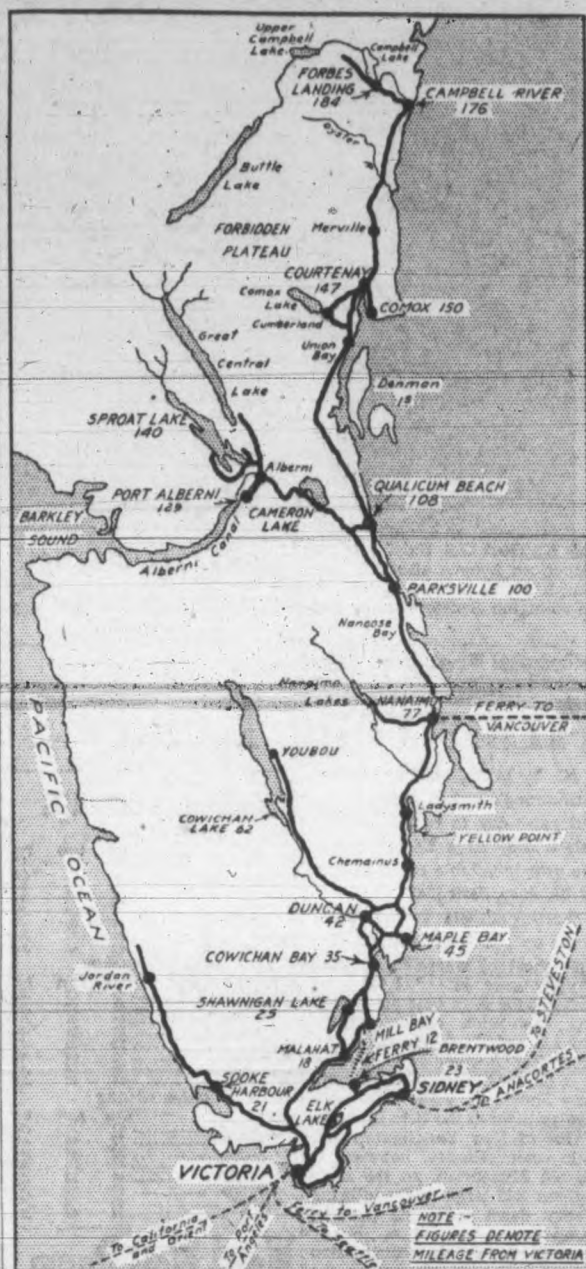

Maple Bay is well-known to yachtsmen and small boat owners because it has safe anchorage for every type of craft. Maple Bay is known to tourists and vacation seekers because the whole district round about holds the indescribable charm and beauty of the great outdoors. Maple Bay is known to daytime visitors because it has a good beach and clear warm water for bathing and swimming. In fact, Maple Bay is known and remembered by all as one of the most delightful summer resorts on Vancouver Island.

The drive to Maple Bay, with good road all the way, takes in some of the finest features of the Island Highway—the Malahat, the seed farms of Kokisilah, now in full bloom, the interesting little city of Duncan and the prosperous farms and country homes of the Somenos and Quamichan Valleys. Through this whole district there is a wealth of Indian legend and myth for those who are interested, splendid fishing and all the other sports that go into the making of a summer vacation.

MAPLE INN
The Maple Inn, delightfully situated and charmingly appointed is just another reason why Maple Bay is remembered by all who visit there. Patterned on the best features of an English countryside inn it has the restful atmosphere that visitors so enjoy. Bright, airy rooms opening onto sun porches overlooking the bay, a big living-room with comfortable chintz-covered lounges and chairs, a dainty dining-room of many large windows, all fit well into the holiday seekers' immediate needs. Boats, a private bathing beach and a lovely garden sloping down to the shore are other features that are much enjoyed. The Maple Inn is a favorite rendezvous for afternoon tea or dinner at the end of a leisurely afternoon's drive from Victoria.

Sources of Cobalt

About 10 per cent of the world's output of cobalt is consumed in the United States. That country produces none of its own, but depends on imports from Australia, Belgian Africa and Canada.

July days are happy days for summer holidays. Make it a Vancouver Island vacation this year.

Sunshine Camp
Cottage Opened

Yesterday's rain blotted out the sun, but it failed to destroy the cheerfulness of the Fred Landsberg Sunshine Camp at Saanichton, where Mrs. E. W. Hamber formally opened a new cottage donated by her to the vacation centre for Greater Victoria mothers and their children.

The cottage, which will house four staff members, was opened at a simple ceremony during which Mrs. Hamber drew aside the Union Jack which draped the doorway and expressed the hope the camp would continue to enjoy the success it had attained in former years.

Following an inspection of the cottage, furnishings for which were donated by the United Commercial Travelers, Mrs. Hamber, with Mrs. M. Rice and Mrs. Peterson, accompanied by Miss Sara Spencer and Miss L. Ogilvie on an inspection of the cabins, visiting the recreation hall to see the children playing in the room heated by a crackling log fire. From that point the gathering moved to the nursery, the kitchen and the flower-decked main hall, where tea was served, with Mrs. T. L. Thorpe-Douglas and Miss L. Ogilvie presiding. They were assisted by Margaret McKay and Gloria Gallop, two little camp guests.

FAMILIES IN CAMP

Fourteen mothers and 38 children are now in residence at the camp.

Visitors were welcomed yesterday by Alderman W. H. Davies, chairman of the camp committee. Also attending the ceremony were: Miss Spencer, Miss L. Ogilvie, Miss A. Cressor, Mrs. Thorpe-Douglas, Mrs. Harris, Magistrate Henry Hall and E. H. Wilson; the camp supervisor, Miss Constance Brown; three representatives of the Family Welfare Association, Miss Dorothy Yates, general secretary, and Misses Beatrice Ball and Virginia Odette; the city medical health officer, Dr. Richard Felton; Mrs. Hugo Beaver, who last year presented the recreation centre, and N. F. Ferris, honorary treasurer. Saanich was represented by G. C. Watkins, relief and welfare worker, and Miss F. Hilton, public health nurse.

Members of the staff this year are: Miss Jennie M. Shaw, camp director; Miss M. Addison, camp nurse; Miss E. Day, camp cook; Miss A. Lyster, recreation leader; and her two assistants, Miss C. Munroe and P. Walmsley.

Senior Y Boys
At Lake Camp

The Y.M.C.A.'s popular Camp Thunderbird, at Glinz Lake, was opened today under the direction of Vivian Shoemaker, boys' work secretary, and late this afternoon had a population of 48 boys.

These boys, who range in ages from 12 to 17, are the seniors and they will occupy the camp until July 25, when it will be invaded by juniors for a two-weeks' stay. Junior registrations to date total 23, but it is expected the total will be around 60 by the time of departure for the outdoor home.

Maurice Hampton, Pierre Desbure, Ernest Hatch, Ronald McEne, Ollie Goldsmith, Allan Drawn, Alex Craigflower and J. Syme are leaders of the senior camp, while Hugh Reston and Donald Porritt are swimming instructors. C. S. Crosby is in charge of first aid and Mrs. A. Norris will be in charge of the kitchen, assisted by Mrs. Plews.

Alan Ripper, B. McDonald, J. Lott, M. Hampton, C. Adamson, A. Martin and F. Rainsford have already been chosen leaders of the junior camp.

STRESSES VALUE OF TRANSLATIONS

In an address amply flavored with humorous anecdotes, Rev. Dr. Edwin W. Smith, noted English anthropologist and superlative translator of the Bible, last night explained some of the difficulties faced in translation to an interested audience in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

Drawing on his own experiences, in Northern Rhodesia 40 years ago, he illustrated "the dangerous, difficult, but supremely important art of translation" which gave to one people the literary riches of another.

"Parts of the Scriptures," the speaker said, "had been translated into over 1,000 languages and complete Bibles had been produced in 742 versions. 'Nothing in all the world is to be compared with the work of translating the Bible,' he declared, 'However imperfect the version, it does bring men face to face with God—the truth—the God does come home to these peoples through the translated word."

Dr. Smith called for continuance of the work. "Not even war can be allowed to stop it; it is of the utmost consequence to the human race that the Word of God be put into the languages of the peoples of this world," he said.

In the absence of the president, Rev. G. A. Reynolds, Rev. J. L. W. McLean was chairman of the meeting, held under the auspices of the Victoria Ministerial Association.

Local Boy Killed
In 40-Foot Plunge

Gordon Pearson, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Leslie Pearson, 1744 Lee Avenue, was killed Tuesday when his bicycle plunged over a 40-foot cliff on the highway five miles north of Kelowna.

The boy was cycling with his mother with whom he was holidaying in the interior.

He is reported to have lost control of his bicycle on the cliff-side and dropped to hard sands. He died in hospital at Kelowna two hours later, where he was taken in a motorboat.

His father, a member of the civil service, left for the interior yesterday.

Suggests School
Bible Reading

Bible reading in the city schools except for those students who conscientiously object, is proposed in a resolution filed with the City School Board by Trustee F. A. Willis.

Mr. Willis proposed the resolution with the comment he realized it would be a contentious one and felt the trustees should give it their full consideration.

The resolution is as follows: "This board is in favor of placing in the curriculum of the schools of this province the reading of such portions of the Holy Bible as may be deemed advisable, reserving to all students whose parents or guardians may have conscientious objection to such reading the right to withdraw to other studies."

The resolution claims that it is incumbent upon Canadian people in such times as the present to stand by their convictions and fight for what they believe is right. Mention is made of the importance which religious ceremonies have. The crowning of the King is carried out at a Christian ceremony and there is further evidence of religion in the opening of sessions of parliaments with prayers and in the administering of oaths in law courts.

The board pledged by resolution at its meeting this week its co-operation in the scheme for compulsory military training at Victoria College, copies of the motion being filed with Hon. G. M. Weir, Minister of Education; P. H. Elliott, principal of the college, and the D.O.C., M.D., No. 11.

Members of the board expressed their gratification over introduction of the plan, G. H. Deane, municipal inspector, explaining it affected the college because of its affiliation with the University of British Columbia.

WILL ORGANIZE
DEFENCE CORPS

A committee was formed under the chairmanship of A. E. Hull, vice-president, to promote the formation of a defence corps unit similar to those formed in other legion branches throughout Canada, at a meeting of the Pro Patria Branch of the Canadian Legion held in the Empress Hotel yesterday. An excellent response is expected from branch members.

The meeting endorsed the provincial government action in placing restrictions on the exportation of valuable timber to countries other than those in the Empire. A resolution that action be taken against various fair concessionaires limiting the amount of currency they may remove from the Dominion, was passed.

A letter was received from Mrs. Norman Rogers expressing thanks for the wire of condolence sent her at the time of her husband's death.

Cheer-up Concert

The second of the series of concerts will be staged under the auspices of the city celebrations committee at Beacon Hill Park tonight at 8. Alderman W. H. Davies, chairman of the committee, stated today. Musical selections and accompaniments for community singing will be provided by Mabel Irving's Old-time Orchestra, with Frank Tupman leading the singing. If the event is well supported the series will be continued throughout the summer.

Here's a Lesson in USED CAR Savings

The first lesson is to buy from a firm with a reputation for satisfying its customers. You should be sure, too, that the car you buy has been properly reconditioned in an up-to-date and completely-equipped shop. You should choose where the selection includes a big enough variety to make it easy to find the make you want at the price you want to pay. You should choose where there is positively no "price juggling," where the lowest possible price is fixed on a basis of the exact market value of the car. And at present you should choose where there has not yet been any increase in used car prices. You will find ALL these conditions at Chevrolet Headquarters.

Arm All Police With Rifles

New Steps Urged For B.C. Security

British Columbia's provincial police force would be trebled and each constable would be armed with a 30.30 rifle, the deadly weapon carried by hunters, if plans drafted by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer, who has just returned from Ottawa, are adopted. He discussed the matter of guarding the internal security of this province with federal authorities. He has already given instructions to arm the existing police with rifles.

Mr. Wismer is alarmed over the situation in regard to enemy aliens in B.C.

"We are sitting on a powder keg in British Columbia and don't realize it," he declared.

"The Ottawa government has insisted they have the situation in hand—through the R.C.M.P.—but do the people know that the R.C.M.P. have only 40 men available for duty in British Columbia?" Mr. Wismer asked.

His proposals to Ottawa included the following:

That every British Columbian be disarmed at once, irrespective of nationality, "with the provision that the police, after checking up, hand back their arms to loyal citizens who can be relied upon to join in the defence of the province."

The trebling of the police forces, with a squad of militia available in various districts to back up police in case of emergency.

Closest co-operation between British Columbia police and Dominion authorities in rooting out subversive elements and guarding vital points.

"The British Columbia government is willing to co-operate to the fullest extent," Mr. Wismer said. "It is not a question with us where the ultimate responsibility for paying for these measures lies. It is where the money is to come from—we want Ottawa to at least advance the money."

"I say it all can be done within a week—at least a start can be made, if the go ahead signal comes from Ottawa."

As for the need for extreme measures, Mr. Wismer declares "there is no organization for the defence of British Columbia, external or internal."

"As an illustration of the danger," he said, "between Vancouver and Osoyoos on the border, my police have discovered that German nationals are situated almost in checkerboard pattern, near strategic points."

"In the opinion of the B.C. police there are any number of vital industries without adequate protection."

POINTS UNGUARDED
"The police feel there are too many points left unguarded which a few determined men—who might any day enter Canada by any of a number of unwatched border trails—could effectively damage."

"What we want," he said, "is a plan whereby loyal citizens can rally."

"We should arm them. We cannot interfere with the arming of our troops, so military arms are of the question. Then, I say, give them sporting rifles."

"My suggestion to Ottawa was that we get enough policemen, no matter what the cost, to defend our danger points. Enrol the citizens; put them under oath, give them group leaders, tell them where to rally, and if a crisis does come, we will have some orderly defence, instead of the confusion which fifth column activities have caused in Norway, Holland and other countries."

"We want, above all," Mr. Wis-

Victoria Boy Among Missing

Lieut. Desmond Bradford, Royal Engineers, is missing in France, according to word received yesterday by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bradford, 1037 Cloverdale Avenue, from the Under-secretary for War in London.

Born in Victoria in August,

LIEUT. DESMOND BRADFORD

1915, Lieut. Bradford was educated at Shawnigan Lake School and in 1933 entered Royal Canadian Military College at Kingston. Four years later he graduated with the second highest honors in the school, having been one of the most brilliant scholars.

He went to England some years ago to take a commission with the Royal Engineers. He went to France in the first week of the war. His last letter home, dated May 13, told him he had just gone into Belgium.

His elder brother, Lieut. Bradford, R.C.N.V.R., is at present in England for special duty with the British navy.

Home Comforts For Services

A new, intimate "home away from home" for sailors, soldiers and airmen will be formally opened Sunday afternoon at 3 at 2024 Belmont Avenue.

It has been called "Emmas"—a tarrying, resting place—and will be operated by Percy E. Willis for the Soldiers' and Airmen's Christian Association, which is affiliated with the Shantymen's Christian Association, of which Mr. Willis is pastor on Vancouver Island.

The old Cameron home, at the corner of Pembroke and Belmont, has been taken over and redecorated and is now ready to receive its first guests. Mrs. Willis and Miss Darda Jean Willis have come from Vancouver and will make their home there and minister to the comforts of the boys in uniform, who may wish an evening of games, reading and writing a cup of tea and a bed for the night, all free of charge.

Last night a housewarming was held at the premises, when more than 100 friends called with dishes and other furnishings, including a piece of the Royal carpet on which Their Majesties walked last year at the City Hall. W. B. Fisher was in the chair, and among the speakers were Rev. J. B. Rowell and Rev. Dr. A. S. Imrie.

Mr. Willis told something of the historic background of the association. A century ago a group of workers commenced operating among the armed forces in Great Britain. They were known as members of the Scripture Readers' Association. Later the name was changed and now the association is under the patronage of H.R.H. the Duke of Connaught, former Governor-General of Canada.

The work was extended to Canada during the 1914-18 war and Halifax was the first Canadian city to receive its benefits. On the outbreak of hostilities last September, the S.R.A. headquarters in England, in conjunction with Dr. R. V. Bingham of Toronto, commenced negotiations for operating among the forces of Canada.

Mr. Willis served in the last war with the 58th Battery, C.F.A.

Fire Officers Named

T. A. Brown was yesterday elected president of the Victoria and District Fire Insurance Agents' Association at the annual meeting in the Pemberton Building. He succeeds F. N. Cabeldu, who is serving with the Canadian Scottish Regiment.

Other officers were elected as follows: H. Cuthbert Holmes, vice-president; Samuel Clegg, secretary-treasurer; Frank Jordan, Fred Walker, Thomas Hammond, Thomas Woolson and Gilbert Fraser, executive committee.

Because of the war it was decided to forego this year the annual banquet, but the annual golf tournament for the R. S. Day Cup, now held by A. B. Christo-

TOWN TOPICS

"Isle of Patmos Vision" will be the subject of an address by Alfred Mace, Bible expositor, in Victoria Gospel Hall tonight at 8.

Five motorists paid $20 in fines in the City Police Court this morning. Four were fined $2.50 each for parking violations and a fifth $10 for speeding.

The Royal Canadian Ordnance Corps Women's Auxiliary will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 at the home of Mrs. Nelson Gibson, 1382 Esquimalt Road.

Condition of Alderman John A. Worthington, removed to the Jubilee Hospital this week with a severe attack of flu, was reported improved by hospital authorities today.

The annual basket picnic of former residents of Tisdale, Sask., postponed yesterday on account of rain, will be held July 16 at Willows beach. Tea will be provided at the beach.

Bank clerks in the city for the week ended today were $1,806.151, according to statement issued by the Victoria Clearing House. Figures for the same week last year were $1,912,868.

Wallace West, 930 Lodge Avenue, was badly cut and bled profusely in an accident on McKenzie Avenue this morning at 6 when the bicycle he was riding collapsed and he was thrown heavily to the ground. He was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in the Spanish police ambulance by Constable C. F. Pearce.

A fine collection of watercolors are shown this week in Joseph Sommer and Sons' art store windows on Government Street. The pictures include views of Jasper, Banff and Victoria, and are the work of a talented young Edmonton artist, Miss Glenna Miller, who is now visiting Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sonley, 1815 Belmont Avenue.

Rows With Hubby Jumps Out Window

Police expected to find a broken body last night on answering a call that a woman had leaped from a window, but found only a wife with a sore leg. She had had an argument with her husband.

Inquiry disclosed the pair started drinking in a hotel room then got into a quarrel. The wife left via the window and fire escape, injuring her leg when she dropped from the fire escape to the sidewalk. Police took her to the Jubilee Hospital for observation.

HUMANE NEEDS IN BUSINESS TOLD

In these troublesome days it would be well for businessmen to slow down, consider their position and possibly turn to a little more brotherly love and kindness in business and generally take stock of themselves before being so willing to criticize or worry about the other man's affairs.

W. D. Oakland, vice-president in charge of publicity for Safeway Stores, told Rotarians in a luncheon address at the Empress Hotel today.

Titling his address "Work In Your Own Back Yard," Mr. Oakland pointed to the futility of the work of nearly every businessman in wandering about looking for something better which he could probably find "in his own back yard" if he would take the trouble to look.

He acknowledged that progress was usually due to change, but when one considered the distress and troubles in the world today it made one think it was time to stop and dig in. He pointed to the railways as a business that had "worked in its own back yard."

When speedier means of travel threatened to injure business the railways "went to work in their own back yard and, developed their public service to an extent which has brought the public back to them." This was true of many industries, he said, illustrating with the ice industry when refrigerators came in, gramophones when radios were introduced and bicycles when cars became used generally.

An appeal for support of the "Silver Trail" drive to purchase an airplane in Victoria was made by Rev. Dr. W. L. Sippell, and several members contributed $62 when Dr. Sippell finished.

Cat Imprisoned In Post Office Box
A member of the Postoffice staff today rescued a cat which had been imprisoned in the parcel mailing box on the Government Street side of the building.

B.C. to Assist Militia Training

Arrangements will be made so that provincial civil service staffs can take militia training under the national mobilization plan, Premier Pattullo said today.

Just what the nature of these arrangements will be has not been decided.

"We have no official word yet as to what the training plan entails. But you can rest assured the right thing will be done at the right time. We will co-operate fully," the Premier said.

In his radio speech last night Defence Minister Ralston indicated that volunteers for the militia would start training at night immediately, and would afterwards get two or three weeks in camp. Those conscripted under the mobilization law probably would spend six weeks in camp.

Thus, to lessen the disruption of civilian life, the volunteer plan will work out best.

An appeal was made by the Defence Minister for all employers to co-operate in allowing their staffs to get the militia training.

In Victoria plans for the mobilization of the militia unit were being rushed ahead here today by Lieut.-Col. F. Brooke Stephenson, who has been named to command the 3rd Battalion Canadian Scottish Regiment.

The 3rd Battalion, which is the militia section, will begin recruiting at the Armories on Bay Street Tuesday, and plans to begin night-time training by the following week.

The 1st Battalion of the Scottish, listed for overseas service, has not been recruited yet today, but strength, Lieut.-Col. J. R. Kingham announced. But recruiting will go ahead for the 2nd Battalion which still needs several hundred men. The second is listed as a home defence unit, but it is distinct from the third in that it is part of the Canadian Active Service Force.

Artist Acclaimed At Summer School

Students of Victoria's Summer School today joined other music lovers of the city who have heard the artist in their appreciation of the performance of Miss Mary Munn, Montreal, blind pianist who has charmed audiences in London, Berlin, Budapest, Vienna, New York and other centres of the musical world.

Miss Munn appeared in recital as today's feature on the extra-curricular program of the Summer School, providing a delightful contrast to the excellent comedy, "Freddie Steps Out," presented at the school last night by Little Theatre players with Fraser Lister in the lead.

Opening her program today Miss Munn treated with feeling and artistry Brahms' "Rhapsody," and followed with a Chopin group, including "Andante Spianato and Polonaise, Opus 22," Nocturne, D Flat, Opus 27, No. 2, "Waltz A Flat, Opus 42" and "Ballade, G Minor, Opus 22."

Her bright interpretation of Bartok's "Six Hungarian Dances" won warm acclaim, as did Debussy's modernistic "Reflets Dans L'Eau." The recital was brought to a close with Dohnanyi's Rhapsody, Opus 11.

COMEDY LAST NIGHT

Last night the students and their friends found a hilarious escape from the serious in "Freddie Steps Out," a three-act comedy centred around the activities of the ingenious Freddy, who jumped from the frying pan into the fire as he sought to extricate himself from entanglements with Jane Gommery, ably played by Muriel Thompson. The story ended satisfactorily for Freddy and Molly Melish, a character skilfully portrayed by Noel Cusack.

Harry Davis as George Gommery, H. J. S. Reynolds as Mr. Toomley, Vaughan Barker as the butler and Silvia Chandley as Molly Melish's maid, provided splendid support, and Mr. Lister added another success to his list of performances on local stages.

Ably directed by Stewart Clark, the play was stage-managed by Leslie Lame, assisted by Pat Hanington as stage carpenter and electrician, and Audrey Wood as property mistress. Alfred Prescott led the orchestra.

BEACH PARTY POSTPONED
Owing to the uncertainty of weather conditions yesterday, the beach party scheduled for tonight at Oak Bay was postponed.

Tomorrow Dr. Florence Materer, internationally-known psychologist and member of the staff, will speak on "Psychology and the Teacher." Students taking Dr. Materer's course will be hostesses at the weekly dance in the evening.

Obituaries

ALFRED T. PEATT, PIONEER, DIES

Alfred Thomas Peatt, a resident of Colwood for over 80 years, and one of Vancouver Island's best-known pioneers, died yesterday at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Born in the Hawaiian Islands in 1857, he came with his parents, the late Arthur Henry and Alicia Peatt, to Colwood, where they settled on the old Peatt farm, one of the first homesteads in that district. He attended Craigflower School as a child, and in 1885 married Elizabeth Veitch of Craigflower, and until a few years ago was actively engaged in farming in the district.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Ernest V. and Leslie B., and one daughter, Mrs. E. Shields, all of Colwood; also nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

The funeral will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock from McCall Bros' Funeral Home. Interment at Colwood.

STOTT—Funeral services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 in McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel for Thomas S. Stott, interment at Royal Oak.

CALDWELL—Rev. J. B. Rowell will conduct the funeral services in McCall Bros' Funeral Chapel for Robert Mortimer Caldwell tomorrow afternoon at 3.30. Interment at Ross Bay.

CONSTANTINE—Rev. Paul Stephenson conducted services at Hayward's B.C. Funeral Chapel yesterday afternoon for John Carter Constantine. Interment was at Colwood, the following acting as pallbearers: D. Heyer, Captain C. P. Kinney, G. Couchman, E. Kirkbright, J. Tisdale and J. O'Connell.

WATSON—The remains of Louis Watson will be forwarded by Sands Mortuary this evening to Vancouver for services and interment.

COUCH—Anthony Couch, aged 60, of 568 Hillside Avenue, died today at the Royal Jubilee Hospital. He was born in St. Ives, Cornwall, England, and had been a resident of this city for 33 years. He was a member of United Service Lodge No. 24, A.F. and A.M., also of the Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion, a member of the Canadian Merchants' Service Guild of Vancouver and an active member of Centennial United Church.

He leaves his widow, three daughters, Mrs. G. Mackintosh of Victoria; Miss Iris, at home, and Mrs. R. Armstrong of Lethbridge, Alta., and one son, Charles Couch, of Victoria, one sister, Mrs. J. Beckley of Victoria, and one brother and one sister in Toronto and one sister in Flint, Michigan; also two grandchildren. The funeral will take place on Saturday afternoon at 2 from Centennial United Church. Interment at Royal Oak. McCall Brothers are in charge of arrangements.

Hardware Concern Starts Improvement

A permit for $10,000 covering alterations and new construction at 1211 Quadra and 910 View was taken out by Hickman City Hardware Company at the city building inspector's office today.

The work will entail construction of a new store 30 by 60 feet facing on Quadra, with offices on the second story and remodeling of the View Street premises for storage.

E. C. Clarkson is listed as architect and Archie McKinty, contractor.

Luxton Flower Show

The summer flower show, sponsored by the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute Wednesday afternoon in Luxton Hall, was opened by Mrs. Alan Chambers. Little Lorraine Rowen presented Mrs. Chambers with a corsage bouquet.

The children's vegetable garden plots, jointly sponsored by the Luxton and Happy Valley Women's Institute and the Happy Valley Parent-Teacher Association featured a well-contested competition. Nineteen gardens had been inspected by the judges, and awards were made Wednesday to Wallace Bailey and Patricia Betts.

Sweet peas were well represented, winners being Mrs. M. A. Morrow and Mrs. H. Langrish. All present took part in the judging of the decorated children's tables, winners being Margaret Strathern, Patricia Betts and Margaret Morrow.

Convenors of the various stalls were Mrs. George Duncan, Mrs. A. Strathern, Mrs. A. Jones, Mrs. J. Crossfield, Mrs. R. B. Hoag, Mrs. Baxter, Mrs. A. Hankin, Mrs. A. Silman, Mrs. A. Hobbs, Mrs. J. Trace, Mrs. S. Hutchison and Mrs. B. Hancock.

Must Try Army To Get Relief

Able-bodied men of military age will have to show they have been turned down for war service before they can get unemployment relief in British Columbia in the future.

This was learned today as the government went ahead with its plans to cut down relief lists by (1) refusing all relief to able-bodied single men under 50 years of age; (2) placing married men under 40 subject to discontinuation of relief.

Relief authorities explained there will be no further relief for single men in the below 50 category during the summer at least. They are not subject to reinstatement on the lists so long as they do not have physical handicaps.

In the case of the married group where immediate cessation of relief would work a hardship the department is prepared to consider special circumstances and allow further relief.

But, besides proving they cannot get civilian employment, such men will also have to show they have been refused for military duty.

The relief department, it was learned, is taking the position that when the country needs men for the defence services, no able-bodied man should be drawing unemployment relief if he is of military age.

Army pay is higher than relief allowances, it was pointed out, and enlistment does not necessarily mean overseas service.

Tool Training Class Here Has Vacancies

Twenty vacancies in the class for vocational training in basic tool skills exist in Victoria, Col. F. T. Fairley, director of technical education, said today.

The class started Monday at the Junior High School. Enrolment is being done through the government employment bureau.

Col. Fairley said classes in Vancouver and New Westminster have been brought up to strength. Establishment of a class in Nanaimo is being considered.

R. E. Thompson, director of youth training, will arrive here next week-end to discuss the program with provincial authorities.

The training plan is part of a national program to equip young men to go into the war industries.

Alaska has approximately five miles of highway for every mile of highway or railroad.

'RANCHO GRANDE' PLAZA FEATURE

A bevy of new songs—all potential favorites, are introduced in 'Rancho Grande,' Republic's latest Gene Autry vehicle, at the Plaza Theatre today.

"I Don't Belong In Your World," an appealing ballad by Gene Autry and Johnnie Marvin, has won coast-to-coast popularity in the short time since it has been introduced. "You Can't Take the Boy Out of the Country," a comic specialty by Smiley Burnette, is another potential record-breaker.

Among the other songs introduced are "Belles of the Bunkhouse," by Walter Samuels,
"Swing of the Range," by Johnnie
Marvin and H. Tobias, and "Whistle," by Gene Autry,
Johnnie Marvin and F. Rose.

Among the traditional songs which are featured in the production are "La Cucaracha" and "Alla En El Rancho Grande."

ATLAS SCREENS

'VIRGINIA CITY'

Advance reports have it that
'Virginia City,' now at the Atlas Theatre, is packed with even more action and excitement than
'Dodge City.' The picture co-stars Errol Flynn as a tough, two-fisted adventurer and Miriam Hopkins in a new role as a singing, dancing, spitfire. 'Virginia City' tells the unwritten story of a gold smuggling plot.

The impressive supporting cast includes such seasoned players as
Alan Hale, Frank McHugh, Guinn
'Big Boy' Williams and John Littel.

'Dollar-Year-Men'

Must Observe Limits

OTTAWA (CP)—A warning to the government to guard against expensive tastes of "dollar-year-men" in the purchase of equipment for temporary offices for war bodies was voiced in the House of Commons yesterday by Karl K. Homuth, Conservative, south Waterloo, Ont.

Many of these men had come from ornate offices with mahogany desks and rugs on the floor, said Mr. Homuth. He had some knowledge of equipment that was being purchased and felt the government should be "very careful" to make sure "that money voted for war purchases should not go into expensive furniture for temporary offices."

Prime Minister Mackenzie
King said the government was watching this situation carefully.

CASUALTY LIST

LONDON (CP)—Five Canadians are included in the 38th

Restou, Man., wife lives at Tam-worth, Eng.; Acting Flt-Lt. D. L.
McLaren, Montreal; Pilot Officer
E. O. Fennell, Canora, Sask.
Missing, believed killed in action:
Leading Aircraftman P. J.
Toner, born in Manitoba, next of kin lives in Edinburgh.

Missing: Pilot Officer L. S.
Adams, whose father lives in Smithville, Ont.

Secretary Arrested

MONTREAL (CP)—Royal Canadian Mounted Police today announced Jack Chapman, secretary of the Canadian Seamen's Union, had been arrested under the Defence of Canada regulations as a member of the outlawed Communist Party of Canada.

The arrest, an R.C.M.P. official said, had "nothing to do with his association with the Seamen's Union."

He was taken into custody with several other alleged communists in a series of swift raids early today.

The Life of Joan of Arc

IV—CAPTURE OF THE MAID OF ORLEANS

When Joan of Arc entered the city of Orleans, the people crowded around her. They felt that she was like an angel sent from Heaven.

Belief in Joan brought success on the field of battle. Soldiers marched from behind the walls and won victories against the English troops. Inside of a week, they gave up the siege and marched away.

Great was the joy of the French. Because Joan had saved the city, she came to be known as the Maid of Orleans.

Joan of Arc taken prisoner at Compeigne.

Joan hated war, but she wanted to make her country free. Time and again she rode into battle, and twice she was wounded. The wounds were not fatal. When she grew well, she was ready for the next step which she declared "the voices" had ordered her to take.

That step was to bring about the crowning of the Dauphin. He was a young man of weak nature, and allowed others to manage his life. He feared trouble if he took the throne.

After Joan's victories in and around Orleans, the belief in her grew so strong that the Dauphin agreed to follow her plan. He traveled to Reims, and there he received the crown. The peasant maid from the village of Domremy watched with happy eyes while the event took place.

That, she thought, was to be the end of her work. She had done all the voices had told her to do. She wanted to go back to her home.

By this time, however, the French leaders felt she could be of the greatest value to them in later battles. They pressed her to stay with the army and at last she agreed.

As I have said, many Frenchmen were fighting alongside the English in the war. The Duke of Burgundy and other French nobles felt that the Dauphin was not the rightful heir to the throne. It was the Burgundians who brought about the downfall of the Maid of Orleans. In fighting which took place outside the fortress in Compeigne, they captured her.

THIS CURIOUS WORLD

By William Ferguson

NAME THE SEASONS BY GIVING FOUR SONG TITLES.

ANSWER: "Spring Song," "In the Good Old Summer Time," "Autumn in Paris," and "Winter Wonderland."

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—My husband and I are in our middle fifties and have been married since our early youth. We have no children. My husband is a good business man, honorable in all his dealings and is greatly respected by his many friends. However, I have long suspected him of philandering and have often thought of confronting him with my suspicions, but he is so kind and generous to me and provides me with a nice home and car and every comfort and luxury, and because we get along so well together I hesitate to do it. I am afraid I could not change him even though I talked to him, and with his disposition I might make matters worse. What do you think?

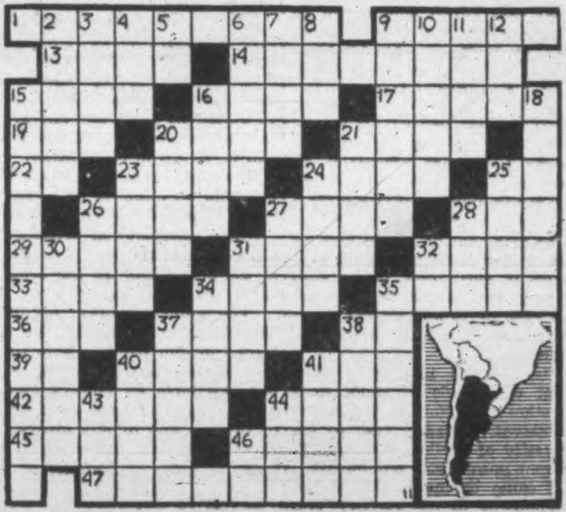

UNDECIDED.

Answer: When a woman is in her middle fifties she is done with romance and should look at marriage from a practical rather than a sentimental viewpoint. Hence I think that you would be extremely foolish to break up your home just because your husband is philandering a little.

It is humiliating, of course, to a wife for her husband to have a wandering foot, but when she is aging, as Time says, it doesn't fill her with rage and jealousy that it did when she was young and felt that she should be all-in-all to him. Sometimes, indeed, a woman is rather glad to have other women take a husband who needs to be constantly amused off of her hands and leave her to her own diversions. Surely you must realize, with your experience of life, that it never stops a philanderer from philandering for his wife to protest against it and tell him that she knows it. No matter how much he promises that he will never do it again, he chases off after the next skirt that passes his way.

Save your face by pretending to know nothing of your husband's little affairs, and keep your home and your luxuries and your husband, who is a good friend and companion even if his name isn't Joseph.

Canada Will Send More Men Overseas

OTTAWA (CP)—Canada intends to send overseas every possible soldier, but Empire responsibilities and home defence requirements must both be considered, Hon. J. L. Ralston, Minister of National Defence, declared in the House of Commons at his announced dispatch overseas of another large contingent "very shortly."

A substantial part of the 2nd Division was already on special duty "outside Canada" and the government was considering what proportion of the remainder should be kept in Canada at the present time, he said yesterday afternoon. The troops to proceed overseas, however, were "not directly" troops of the 2nd Division.

CALLS FOR 40,000

The new Defence Minister, in a brief statement, indicated some of the plans and problems before the Defence Department. Among other things he indicated:

Immediate recruitment of 40,000 additional men in the Canadian Active Service Force.

Recruitment up to full war strength of the 90 units of the nonpermanent active militia.

Calling up the first quota under the Mobilization Act in six weeks. The dispatch of a further substantial number of trained troops to "outposts."

Canada is now "on its own" for equipment.

Ten gun carriers and rifles will shortly be sent overseas.

Bren gun deliveries are being made ahead of schedule.

Officers of the 3rd and 4th Divisions have been slated and only await approval.

Many 2nd Division officers are training in England.

Later, in a national broadcast, Col. Ralston repeated his statement that 40,000 men would be recruited for the C.A.S.F. and Hon. C. G. Power, Air Minister, said many thousands of men were needed for militia training.

WANTS VETERANS TO JOIN

Col. Ralston also expressed a strong hope that physically fit veterans would join the C.A.S.F. and militia units to stiffen morale and assist in training.

He said that he would "not be true to my position" if he did not make it clear that every able-bodied man in Canada between the ages of 19 and 45, "and perhaps over," should have military training.

The defence minister's statement was made in reply to a question from Hon. R. B. Hanson, Conservative leader, as to the necessity of further overseas aid in man-power and equipment.

It came during debate on an amendment to the Defence Act to provide for appointment of a separate naval minister and for the air minister to act as associate defence minister with full powers in absence of the defence minister. The measure was given final reading.

First reading was also given a bill presented by Prime Minister Mackenzie King establishing the new National War Services Department, to be administered by Hon. J. G. Gardiner.

ESCAPE DEFENCE TAX

The house also approved a government amendment to the income war tax schedule exempting all warrant officers, non-commissioned officers and men in Canada's armed forces from the 2 per cent national defence tax on service pay and allowances.

Previously only overseas officers and men or those engaged in sea and air operations in Canada were so exempted. Warrant officers, non-commissioned officers, and men had previously been exempted from income tax.

PLACES FOR ALL

In his broadcast to the nation, Col. Ralston said:

"This nation will be no hoarding of refugees, untrained, untaught, helpless and impotent, fleeing blindly in the face of the enemy. We propose that every man shall be given the right and shall assume his full obligation of citizenship."

"Now this is what every man of military age can and should do now. In every district there is a local military authority. Get in touch with your military district."

"Be ready to drill at your local military headquarters by July 15 for two nights a week. The exercise will do you good. Be ready for camp of 15 to 20 days by not later than August 1; 37,000 men will go under canvas at that time and a further similar number during August and September. The fresh air will do you good."

"I only wish I were going with you."

Major Power in his broadcast dealt specifically with the non-permanent active militia, the part-time soldiery.

New Department Has Wide Scope

OTTAWA (CP)—Hon. James G. Gardiner, Minister-designate of the new National War Services Department, is going to have wide scope for his organizational abilities in his new post. As war services minister he will co-ordinate a number of activities and may be called on to supervise any other old war job the cabinet proposes.

Organization of the new department which is still in process of being approved by Parliament, is well advanced, looking to rapid handling of the national registration of Canadian manpower.

This registration, to be completed in August, will be the first big job of the department. The bill creating the department received first reading in the House of Commons yesterday and after it has been enacted Mr. Gardiner will be sworn in as minister.

At present he still holds his portfolio as Minister of Agriculture. Greatest power given the former Saskatchewan premier in the post is contained in a clause in the act setting up the department and providing that:

"The minister may perform such other duties as may be assigned to him from time to time by the Governor-in-Council, and he shall have all powers necessary to carry out the provisions of this act and of any orders or regulations made hereunder."

CONSCRIPTS STAY HOME

It will be Mr. Gardiner's duty to assist in carrying out objects with the national resources of the country at the government's disposal, the only proviso being that conscripted manpower be used only in Canada.

The war services minister will promote, organize and co-ordinate different forms of voluntary assistance so that most effective use of personal services and material contributions will be realized.

He may co-ordinate existing public information services of the government and "originate or employ any other means in order that they may be used most effectively in obtaining aid from the people of Canada in the emergency."

In effect Mr. Gardiner, at 56, will be the government's handy man in the matter of war endeavor.

FIRE-LIGHTER FINED

NANAIMO (CP)—Lionel J. Kirkham was fined $25 by Stipendiary Magistrate C. H. Beever-Potts yesterday, for lighting a fire within one-half mile of a forest of woodland while the closure due to the existing fire hazard was still in force in the fire district.

Summer School

Learn From Past, Librarian Urges

The importance of providing for the child selected reading of such a type that it would give him—and through him, society—protection against ignorance, false values and boredom, was emphasized by Miss Margaret Clay, city librarian, in an address to the Summer School of Education at the High School auditorium yesterday.

"All modern librarianship is based on the principle that literature, which is the record of man's experience from the beginning, his struggles, failures, achievements, ideas and ideals, belongs to all men for their enjoyment and benefit, to assist them to live lives of satisfaction to themselves and those around them," she said.

"Is it possible that one of the causes of the ghastly mess in which we find ourselves today may be our failure to learn from the experience of the past or to adapt and apply what we may have learned to our own problems and to discriminate between fact and propaganda?" she asked.

"If it is not too late, it is your task and that of all educators to see that such things shall not be again," Miss Clay stated.

The speaker briefly sketched the development of libraries, before relating them to the teacher and the school. She quoted Huxley's definition of a liberal education and indicated the manner in which the library could contribute to that goal.

She stressed the fact the benefits of a library depended more on the quality of its stock than quantity.

"It is the task of the teacher and the librarian to make available and present that record of experience with such understanding that a child will learn how to use books as tools, will develop an ability to take from the written page that which is important and true and make it his own, and finally to inspire a deep and abiding appreciation of the best in literature so that for all time he, and through him, society may be protected against ignorance, false values and boredom."

"This may seem impossible, but it can be accomplished, provided the books, however few, are carefully chosen and the teacher or librarian is enthusiastic and wise," Miss Clay stated.

Salvation Army Passes Objective

The Salvation Army war and home service campaign, while by no means completed in all the centres of organization in the Dominion, will reach well over the objective of $1,000,000 for the Dominion. Reports from British Columbia record Vancouver as having reached $90,000 and Victoria $23,000.

These latest returns show an estimated total of $1,257,541.68 for the Dominion.

Commissioner Orames, the territorial commander, pointed out, however, the ever-increasing demands being made on the army for services in connection with the war. Forty service centres already are in operation in the Dominion and more are being requested by military and civil authorities in all parts of Canada.

A large hostel for Canadian servicemen has been opened recently by Hon. Vincent Massey, the High Commissioner for the Dominion in London, England.

The Toronto hostel will be opened shortly and also a hostess home which will have accommodation for visiting relatives of servicemen.

The much-extended war service program, which it has been necessary for the army to undertake, will make much need for funds and the generosity of the public, as shown in the splendid response in the War and Home Service Campaign, will help greatly, but the increased funds subscribed, and much more, will be required if the Army is to fill all the calls for service pouring in upon it.

IMPROVE HOTEL

Building activity in the city, slack last week, was revived yesterday with issuance of a permit for $19,000 renovations and improvements to the Cecil Hotel, 1329 Blanshard Street.

In addition to work on the hotel itself, the permit calls for construction of three new stores on the ground floor on Blanshard Street and one on Johnson Street as well as installation of an elevator.

Paine and Townsend are contractors for the project, designs for which were prepared by C. Elwood Watkins.

Yesterday a permit was granted Mrs. A. Greshiv for a $2,900 five-room stucco home at 2323 Vancouver Street.

Canadian Nickel

MAKES MODERN AIRCRAFT POSSIBLE

AIRCRAFT FACTORIES are operating day and night. New plants are being rushed to completion. Planes are being wheeled from the assembly lines, put through their punishing tests, and crated for shipment.

Today's planes must be built with an ample margin of safety to stand up under terrific strains. Vital parts subject to stress, shock or wear depend upon Canadian Nickel for added strength and toughness. Nickel Alloy Steels are universally used for propeller shafts, connecting rods, gears and numerous other parts subjected to severe stresses, fatigue or wear. Nickel-Alloys also protect against failure due to intense heat and corrosive fumes.

In producing increasing quantities of Canadian Nickel for the Empire's expanding industries, Canada's Nickel mines, smelters and refineries and their 11,000 Canadian employees stand ready to do their share. With its plants modernized and expanded, this Canadian industry is prepared to produce as never before.
